Mayor, Board of Education Races to Bring Heavy Vote

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last in a series of three articles outlining issues and candidates on the ballot in Tuesday's general election. Today persons seeking office within the city are reviewed.

The contest for the mayor's office will be one of two purely political races involving all 15 of the city's precincts.

Opposing each other for the chief executive's post are Republican Richard W. Penn and Democrat George E. Curtin. The two men emerged victorious among a field of five candidates seeking nomination during the May primaries here.

Also expected to produce heavy voting will be a five-candidate race for the three councilman-at-large seats to be filled. Three ward council posts are uncontested while incumbent Boyd Horn runs against Republican hopeful Robert J. Good for the Fourth Ward council seat.

BOTH MEN are 41. Penn has been a local attorney since 1950 and a member of Council eight years. He is a graduate of Pickaway Twp. High School, Kenyon College and The Ohio State University College of Law. He lives at 503 Springhollow Rd.

Curtin is a Circleville native making his first bid for political office. He was graduated from Circleville High School in 1938, is a World War II veteran and holds an executive post with the Circleville Ice Co. In the primary Curtin was given 807 votes, the most received by any candidate.

In the councilman-at-large contest, two Republicans and three Democrats seek to fill the three positions open. David Crawford (D) of N. Court St. made the best primary showing, collecting 543 votes of the approximately 2,000 cast.

$700,000 'Shortage' Found To Be Boner

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A $700,000 bank "shortage" was solved Thursday. It was all a mistake.

Sam Stein, who runs a messenger service, sent a secretary to the bank Wednesday for a $39.80 money order. She returned with one made out for $700,039.80, but the mistake went unnoticed.

Auditors worked all night on the problem.

Stein noticed the error Thursday morning and took the money order back to the bank.

Princess Meg 'Thrilled' by Her New Son

LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret gave birth to a son today and her husband said she was thrilled and delighted.

First to see the baby—after the doctors and nurses—was the father, the Earl of Snowdon, the former society photographer Antony Armstrong-Jones.

Coming from the royal maternity suite in Clarence House, he exclaimed to a member of the household: "The princess and I are absolutely thrilled and delighted."

His son—fifth in line to the British throne—was born Viscount Linley.

The infant's weight was not announced immediately.

An official announcement said "mother and son are doing well."

The child was born in the room in Clarence House that Princess Margaret once used as a bedroom. She lived at the house, home of the queen mother, until her marriage May 6, 1960. Both she and her husband are 31.

Margaret's boy is fifth in line of succession to the British throne, behind Prince Charles, 13; Prince Andrew, who will be 2 in February; Princess Anne, 11, and Princess Margaret.

The baby automatically acquired the title of Viscount Linley, the secondary title given his father when the queen made him Earl of Snowdon on Oct. 3. Had Armstrong-Jones not been raised to the peerage, the baby would have been a commoner with no title, a rare thing in British history for one so high in the line of succession to the throne.

The unusual warm weather prevailing here throughout October has been a "more than welcome" aid to farmers and construction workers.

TEMPERATURES ranged from an unusual high of 88 degrees on October 12 to a record low (this season) of 22 degrees on October 26.

October was an extremely dry month in Pickaway County with only 1.54 inches of rainfall on record for the entire month. Only six days of the 31-day month brought precipitation.

The heaviest rainfall of the month was recorded Sunday night and Monday morning of this week when 0.66 of an inch was recorded here.

Football fans have also appreciated the extended summer. Topcoats and blankets haven't been a necessity for boosters of the gridiron — yet!

If the weatherman scores a positive forecast, and even he can be right sometimes, residents are reminded to check the anti-freeze level in automobile radiators and remove winter apparel from the moth balls. Sudden 25 and 30-degree temperatures are not ideal following a daytime high of 79 yesterday and a low of 61 this morning.

4 Indicted In Toledo Draft Cases

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Four men three of whom are conscientious objectors, have been indicted by a federal grand jury for failure to obey orders from their selective service boards.

Two men were arrested after the indictments were returned Thursday. A third man, Pablo Luna, 25, formerly of Perryburg and now a Chicago resident, was being sought by the FBI in Chicago. A member of Jehovah's Witnesses, Luna was indicted for refusing to report for non-military duty at Columbus State Hospital.

Indicted on similar charges were Robert A. Summerson, 24, and Archie W. Lee Jr., 25, both of Toledo, also members of Jehovah's Witnesses. They were arrested by federal authorities.

The fourth man, Daniel R. Bos-telman, 25, formerly of Defiance, was indicted for failing to keep his draft board informed of his mailing address. He is believed to be in California.

All four face possible sentences of up to five years in prison and $10,000 fines if convicted of violating the Universal Military Training Act.

Battered Honduras Capital To Move

BELIZE, British Honduras (AP) — Twice destroyed by hurricanes in three decades, this capital of British Honduras will be moved inland 44 miles from the exposed Caribbean Coast to higher ground.

The government announcement came as the known death toll from Hurricane Hattie rose to 151, and many more bodies were feared buried in the mud and wreckage left by the storm Tuesday.

The rising Belize River threatened floods in the city of 30,000, which bore the brunt of the 200-mile-an-hour winds and tidal waves that crashed in from the Caribbean.

Belize counted 62 dead. An estimated 75 per cent of the buildings in the city were destroyed or damaged. The property devastation was greater than the 1931 hurricane that leveled the city and killed more than 2,000 persons.

There were 38 dead reported in Stann Creek, 1 at Gale's Point, 29 on Turneffe and 14 on Cay Caulker. The latter two are small islands off the coast.

Five persons were reported killed in neighboring Guatemala and two in Honduras.

As far as could be determined amid the confusion, all the 200 Americans in British Honduras were safe.

U.S. Consul Richard Geppert, who fled with his family just ahead of the storm, radioed from Cayo de San Ignacio that they were safe after being stranded at the Guatemala border by a blown-out bridge.

Hondurans trudged the muddy streets of the devastated capital and even managed a chuckle at their survival—but with heavy hearts.

British troops were flown from Jamaica to help guard against looting as the clearing of the debris went slowly, mostly by hand.

"When we are able to remove the debris from the streets, I fear many more bodies will be found," said Prime Minister George Price. "We are waiting for heavy equipment."

Raymond Yate, a waiter at the Fort George Hotel, told of the horror on hurricane night.

"I swam nine blocks right through the streets," he said. "On the way I found two bodies. I put them on a high place, where it was dry, and continued to swim. I came across a woman with two

South Africa OKs Passport For Luthuli

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — The South African government today granted Zulu leader Albert John Luthuli a passport so he can go to Oslo to collect the 1960 Nobel Peace Prize awarded him for his fight against the government's racial segregation policy.

The government said Luthuli would be granted 10 days for his trip. This means he will not be able to accept any of the numerous speaking offers he has had from the United States and Britain.

Luthuli, 61, has been restricted to a native reservation in the eastern province of Natal since the 1960 race riots at Sharpeville. He was banished as leader of the African National Congress, which was later outlawed.

The government previously had spoke disparagingly of the Nobel award to Luthuli and there had been considerable speculation that he would be refused a passport.

The Peace Prize Committee, in announcing the belated 1960 award Oct. 23, cited Luthuli for his advocacy of nonviolent methods in resisting racial segregation. The award includes $43,744 in prize money.

children. I helped the mother to safety, and swam the children to a dry place."

Many still talked about the baby born in Belize Hospital while the hurricane howled at its peak. It was a boy, and therefore not named Hattie.

Evacuation of the thousands of homeless moved slowly. A shortage of gasoline contributed to transportation difficulties. Special food dispensaries handed out rice to the destitute.

Relief supplies continued to pour in from abroad.

Planes from the U.S. Caribbean Command in Panama arrived with equipment to purify 900 gallons of water an hour, medicine, and 10 tons of food, enough for 40,000 meals. A disaster relief team came with them to survey the area's needs and additional supplies were readied in the Canal Zone.

The U.S. aircraft carrier Antietam arrived off Belize with helicopters, doctors and more relief supplies. The carrier joined the destroyers Cory and Bristol and the tanker Nespelen, which had arrived Wednesday.

Trio Accused In Chillicothe Kidnap Try

Local State Highway Patrolmen and the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department were alerted here last night for an auto involved in a kidnapping attempt in Chillicothe.

A woman, her husband and another man are being held in the Chillicothe Jail after being apprehended by the State Highway Patrol south of Circleville on Route 23, following the abduction of two children in Chillicothe.

Chillicothe Police said the three persons will face assault and battery charges stemming from the abduction of the woman's children from their father's home.

The father, Andrew P. Weyer, about 35, was beaten with fists when he tried to prevent the abduction, police said.

Weyer gained custody of the children when he divorced his ex-wife, now Mrs. Georgia D. Kyle, 24, of Spokane, Wash. Weyer also subsequently remarried.

Kyle, her present husband, Dexter, 25, and Dale L. Pretty, 25, of Hunters, Wash., were apprehended Thursday night by the Ohio Highway Patrol shortly after the abduction. The children were with them in the car heading north toward Columbus on US 23 in Pickaway County.

The youngsters, one aged 3 and the other 4 or 5, were placed in a children's home here overnight.

Patrolman Frank McGraw said the Washington trio forced their way into the Weyer home while the family was sleeping. After assaulting Weyer, they fled Mrs. Weyer, who was not harmed, called police Weyer declined treatment immediately.

McGraw said the Kyles had papers from a court in Washington. He said authorities are trying to determine the legality of the papers and whether they gave Mrs. Kyle custody of the children. The policeman said other charges against the Kyles and Pretty are open, pending further investigation.

Secondhand Rocket Launched by Navy

POINT MUGU, Calif. (AP) — The Navy has launched a second-hand rocket.

The 17-foot Aerobee missile was fired from the sea off Point Mugu Thursday, just nine days after being used in a similar experiment.

The rocket soared to 5,000 feet, then parachuted back to earth. Supporters of the water-launch system say rockets could thus be launched almost any place in the sea, at remote distances from inhabited areas, and without the vast expense of fixed pads.

A Navy landing craft towed the Aerobee three miles to sea. It was fueled as it floated horizontally in the ocean, then fired remotely by a radio signal.

Big Powers Reach Accord On U Thant

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council today recommended unanimously that Burma's U Thant be named acting secretary-general of the world organization in place of the late Dag Hammarskjold.

The action was taken at a brief closed meeting of the 11-nation council after the big powers had reached agreement ending a six-week-old deadlock.

The General Assembly was scheduled to act quickly on the council's recommendation at an afternoon session. Overwhelming approval was expected in a secret ballot.

Mongi Slim of Tunisia, the assembly president, will read out the results to the delegates in the big blue and gold assembly hall. U Thant will await the outcome in a room behind the podium.

The Belgian Count Jehan de Noye, chief of U.N. protocol, will escort U Thant to the speakers' platform. Members of the assembly's steering committee and presidents of the three high U.N. councils will be on the platform.

U Thant will administer the oath of office to U Thant, and then escort him to the secretary-general's seat at the right of the president.

U Thant will make a brief acceptance speech, to be followed by a round of congratulatory speeches by delegates expected to take up the entire afternoon session.

U Thant will have a free hand to choose his chief assistant.

Both the U.S. and Russia backed away from previous positions in agreeing to U Thant for the job. Both of the big powers had tried to specify the number of deputies the Burmese would appoint and the areas from which they would be drawn.

The General Assembly was to meet this afternoon to elect U Thant. He will serve until April 1963.

U Thant, 52, a quiet but determined diplomat, broke the U.S.-Soviet deadlock over the issue of his principal advisers by telling the big powers he would name "a limited number." He refused to commit himself in advance to

Korea Orphans Here To Win Your Heart

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — They shun beds and don't like candy. They're bright-eyed, immaculately scrubbed and behave themselves. They sing with the voices of angels.

They're orphans, here to win your hearts.

Six little boys and 26 girls, all between the ages of 8 and 12, are here from South Korea on a 40-city good-will tour of the United States and Canada.

The children are members of the World Vision Korean Orphan Choir. They represent 13,000 orphans in South Korea and sing songs of gratitude and love.

Wide eyes grow wider as the youngsters travel America by bus, happily fulfilling a twin mission:

Thanking Americans and Canadians who have contributed to 151 Korean institutions, and hoping for contributions to help construction of a 200-bed children's hospital near Seoul where free medical care will be given any orphan or needy child.

Traveling with them are a nurse, dietician, tutor, and American and Korean chaperones.

The aversion to candy and beds is reasonable. The children simply aren't familiar with such luxuries. For a treat, they enjoy pickled vegetables. For sleeping, each has brought his own sleeping bag.

Nehru Conference Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India will confer privately with President Kennedy for more than five hours in a 10-day visit to the United States, Nehru's visit begins Sunday.

U.S., Soviet Shun U.N. Test Ban Call

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. political committee gave overwhelming approval on Thursday night to a call for a voluntary, unpoliced moratorium on nuclear weapon tests.

Both the United States and the Soviet Union have rejected it in advance.

The committee voted 72-21 with 8 abstentions for the resolution submitted by India and five other nonaligned nations. It appeared certain to get the two-thirds majority needed in the 103-nation General Assembly.

The ballot came shortly after two more Soviet nuclear blasts were disclosed and President Kennedy announced the United States would prepare to conduct new tests in the atmosphere to be ready in case free world security demanded them.

Before the vote, the United States and its Western allies said

Moscow's unilateral scrapping of the previous voluntary moratorium on Aug. 31 and its subsequent series of test explosions attested to the futility of any agreement that made no provision for enforcement.

The Soviet Union called the moratorium unfeasible unless it was made part of an over-all disarmament agreement.

Despite the prior rejection by the nuclear powers, India urged the committee to make another appeal to them to call off further tests.

Some delegates predicted the strong support given the moratorium appeal would place the United States in an awkward position if it resumes atmosphere tests. They argued that the propaganda bonus the Americans won from the worldwide indignation over the Soviet Union's violation of the last moratorium would be canceled out if they follow suit.

Officials say the U.S. can be expected to explode several new types of improved nuclear weapons if President Kennedy decides to order test firings in the atmosphere.

Kennedy announced Thursday he is determined to maintain the U.S. lead over the Soviet Union in nuclear weapons strength. He disclosed that he was ordering the "necessary preparations" for atmospheric tests if in his later judgment they become necessary.

Although the President is reported reluctant to order such explosions, there is a growing belief in official quarters here that the United States probably will undertake a program of atmospheric testing in a few months.

Officials reported that U.S. experts do not have in mind exploding superbolts of the kind that the Soviets fired Monday with a force of 50 megatons. On the contrary, they said, the atmospheric explosions would be relatively small, yet larger than tests conducted underground.

Kennedy said in his statement that if bursts in the air become necessary they would be held within limits that restrict the fallout "to an absolute minimum."

Initial preparations which are now beginning, it was learned, consist of a survey of the types of nuclear weapons which are ready or can be made ready for testing and selection of the sites at which the tests would be conducted. The second stage will consist of the physical preparation for the actual explosions.

Two Injured In Car Crash

Two passengers in an auto driven by Cecil Buskirk, 35, Columbus, were referred to a doctor for possible injuries received in a one-car mishap at about 1 p. m. yesterday on the Chillicothe - Williamsport Road, four miles south of Williamsport.

Robert Buck, 14, and Jerry Smith, 20, both of Columbus, complained of back injuries following the crash, according to Deputy Sheriff William Pontious.

Buskirk attempted to avoid striking a huge rock in the middle of the road when he lost control of his auto, Deputy Pontious said.

The auto skidded on the berm, struck a fence and utility pole and rolled over on its top. The vehicle was demolished, the deputy said.

Recluse Leaves $400,000 Estate

Worthy, a former U.S. Treasury Department attorney, died last August.

He and his spinster daughter, Frances, had lived in seclusion and apparent poverty for 30 years but only Thursday did a family attorney disclose the value of Worthy's estate — $400,000.

Kennedy Wows Jersey Dems

Political Speech Given In Governor's Race

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — President Kennedy wowed New Jersey Democrats Thursday night with a Republican-needing stump speech aimed at helping underdog Richard J. Hughes in the state's race for governor.

Kennedy obviously enjoyed a two-hour respite from the burdens of the presidency as he put on the cap of party political leadership in an outdoor speech in the brisk November air to a rally of about 10,000 of the party faithful. This fell far short of the 50,000 throng that Hughes' supporters had hoped to assemble.

The President flew to Trenton from New York City, where he gave a boost to Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner in the latter's race for reelection. Kennedy flew back to Washington after a brief reception with New Jersey Democratic leaders and a 10-minute speech for Hughes.

Kennedy's endorsement of Wagner in New York was:

"I want to take this opportunity to state with the utmost conviction my wholehearted support for the reelection of Mayor Robert F. Wagner. His experience in coping with the problems of this great city cannot be matched."

In Trenton, Kennedy was in old campaign form as he told the cheering crowd that Hughes, opposed by Republican James P. Mitchell, had had "a long and uphill campaign." Mitchell generally is credited with leading in a contest that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has said will have a direct bearing on Republican comeback efforts in Congress next year.

With a note of sarcasm in his voice, the bare-headed President, wearing a business suit and no topcoat, told the chilled crowd that Hughes had been downgraded too much.

"He has been written off on more front pages of more papers supporting other candidates than any candidate I know, with the possible exception of myself about 18 months ago," Kennedy said.

Kennedy avoided any reference to Eisenhower, who has campaigned personally for Mitchell, who was labor secretary in his Cabinet. But if Democrats felt the President thus left any kind of political void, they had reasonable assurance that it would be filled with a scheduled appearance in Newark, N.J., tonight by former President Harry S. Truman.

LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret gave birth to a son today and her husband said she was thrilled and delighted.

First to see the baby—after the doctors and nurses—was the father, the Earl of Snowdon, the former society photographer Antony Armstrong-Jones.

Coming from the royal maternity suite in Clarence House, he exclaimed to a member of the household: "The princess and I are absolutely thrilled and delighted."

His son—fifth in line to the British throne—was born Viscount Linley.

The infant's weight was not announced immediately.

An official announcement said "mother and son are doing well."

The child was born in the room in Clarence House that Princess Margaret once used as a bedroom. She lived at the house, a home of the queen mother, until her marriage May 6, 1960. Both she and her husband are 31.

Margaret's boy is fifth in line of succession to the British throne, behind Prince Charles, 13; Prince Andrew, who will be 2 in February; Princess Anne, 11, and Princess Margaret.

The baby automatically acquired the title of Viscount Linley, the secondary title given his father when the queen made him Earl of Snowdon on Oct. 3. Had Armstrong-Jones not been raised to the peerage, the baby would have been a commoner with no title, a rare thing in British history for one so high in the line of succession to the throne.

South Africa OKs Passport For Luthuli

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — The South African government today granted Zulu leader Albert John Luthuli a passport so he can go to Oslo to collect the 1960 Nobel Peace Prize awarded him for his fight against the government's racial segregation policy.

The government said Luthuli would be granted 10 days for his trip. This means he will not be able to accept any of the numerous speaking offers he has had from the United States and Britain.

Luthuli, 61, has been restricted to a native reservation in the eastern province of Natal since the 1960 race riots at Sharpeville. He was banished as leader of the African National Congress, which was later outlawed.

The government previously had spoke disparagingly of the Nobel award to Luthuli and there had been considerable speculation that he would be refused a passport.

The Peace Prize Committee, in announcing the belated 1960 award Oct. 23, cited Luthuli for his advocacy of nonviolent methods in resisting racial segregation. The award includes $43,744 in prize money.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati's City Council has passed a new law against distributing obscene literature, designed to replace a law the Ohio Supreme Court said was unconstitutional.

Battered Handuras Capital To Move

BELIZE, British Honduras (AP) — Twice destroyed by hurricanes in three decades, this capital of British Honduras will be moved inland 44 miles from the exposed Caribbean Coast to higher ground.

The government announcement came as the known death toll from Hurricane Hattie rose to 151, and many more bodies were feared buried in the mud and wreckage left by the storm Tuesday.

The rising Belize River threatened floods in the city of 30,000, which bore the brunt of the 200-mile-an-hour winds and tidal waves that crashed in from the Caribbean.

Belize counted 62 dead. An estimated 75 per cent of the buildings in the city were destroyed or damaged. The property devastation was greater than the 1931 hurricane that leveled the city and killed more than 2,000 persons.

There were 38 dead reported in Stann Creek, 1 at Gale's Point, 29 on Turneffe and 14 on Cay Caulker. The latter two are small islands off the coast.

Five persons were reported killed in neighboring Guatemala and two in Honduras.

As far as could be determined amid the confusion, all the 200 Americans in British Honduras were safe.

U.S. Consul Richard Geppert, who fled with his family just ahead of the storm, radioed from Cayo de San Ignacio that they were safe after being stranded at the Guatemala border by a blown-out bridge.

Hondurans trudged the muddy streets of the devastated capital and even managed a chuckle at their survival—but with heavy hearts.

British troops were flown from Jamaica to help guard against looting as the clearing of the debris went slowly, mostly by hand.

"When we are able to remove the debris from the streets, I fear many more bodies will be found," said Prime Minister George Price. "We are waiting for heavy equipment."

Raymond Yate, a waiter at the Fort George Hotel, told of the horror on hurricane night.

"I swam nine blocks right through the streets," he said. "On the way I found two bodies. I put them on a high place, where it was dry, and continued to swim. I came across a woman with two children. I helped the mother to safety, and swam the children to a dry place."

Many still talked about the baby born in Belize Hospital while the hurricane howled at its peak. It was a boy, and therefore not named Hattie.

Evacuation of the thousands of homeless moved slowly. A shortage of gasoline contributed to transportation difficulties. Special food dispensaries handed out rice to the destitute.

Relief supplies continued to pour in from abroad.

Planes from the U.S. Caribbean Command in Panama arrived with equipment to purify 900 gallons of water an hour, medicine, and 10 tons of food, enough for 40,000 meals. A disaster relief team came with them to survey the area's needs and additional supplies were ready in the Canal Zone.

The U.S. aircraft carrier Antietam arrived off Belize with helicopters, doctors and more relief supplies. The carrier joined the destroyers Cory and Bristol and the tanker Nespelen, which had arrived Wednesday.

Trio Accused In Chillicothe Kidnap Try

Local State Highway Patrolmen and the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department were alerted here last night for an auto involved in a kidnapping attempt in Chillicothe.

A woman, her husband and another man are being held in the Chillicothe Jail after being apprehended by the State Highway Patrol south of Circleville on Route 23, following the abduction of two children in Chillicothe.

Chillicothe Police said the three persons will face assault and battery charges stemming from the abduction of the woman's children from their father's home.

The father, Andrew P. Weyer, about 35, was beaten with fists when he tried to prevent the abduction, police said.

Weyer gained custody of the children when he divorced his ex-wife, now Mrs. Georgia D. Kyle, 24, of Spokane, Wash. Weyer also subsequently remarried.

Mrs. Kyle, her present husband, Dexter, 25, and Dale L. Preety, 25, of Hunters, Wash., were apprehended Thursday night by the Ohio Highway Patrol shortly after the abduction. The children were with them in the car heading north toward Columbus on US 23 in Pickaway County.

The youngsters, one aged 3 and the other 4 or 5, were placed in a children's home here overnight.

Patrolman Frank McGraw said the Washington trio forced their way into the Weyer home while the family was sleeping. After assaulting Weyer, they fled Mrs. Weyer, who was not harmed, called police Weyer declined treatment immediately.

McGraw said the Kyles had papers from a court in Washington. He said authorities are trying to determine the legality of the papers and whether they gave Mrs. Kyle custody of the children.

The policemen said other charges against the Kyles and Preety are open, pending further investigation.

Secondhand Rocket Launched by Navy

POINT MUGU, Calif. (AP) — The Navy has launched a second-hand rocket.

The 17-foot Aerobee missile was fired from the sea off Point Mugu Thursday, just nine days after being used in a similar experiment.

The rocket soared to 5,000 feet, then parachuted back to earth.

Supporters of the water-launch system say rockets could thus be launched almost anywhere in the sea, at remote distances from inhabited areas, and without the vast expense of fixed pads.

A Navy landing craft towed the Aerobee three miles to sea. It was fueled as it floated horizontally in the ocean, then fired remotely by a radio signal.

U.S., Soviet Shun U.N. Test Ban Call

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council today recommended unanimously that Burma's U Thant be named acting secretary-general of the world organization in place of the late Dag Hammarskjöld.

The action was taken at a brief closed meeting of the 11-nation council after the big powers had reached agreement ending a six-weeks-old deadlock.

The General Assembly was scheduled to act quickly on the council's recommendation at an afternoon session. Overwhelming approval was expected in a secret ballot.

Mongi Slim of Tunisia, the assembly president, will read out the results to the delegates in the big blue and gold assembly hall. U Thant will await the outcome in a room behind the podium.

The Belgian Count Jehan de Nove, chief of U.N. protocol, will escort U Thant to the speakers' platform. Members of the assembly's steering committee and presidents of the three high U.N. councils will be on the platform.

Slim will administer the oath of office to U Thant, and then escort him to the secretary-general's seat at the right of the president.

U Thant will make a brief acceptance speech, to be followed by a round of congratulatory speeches by delegates expected to take up the entire afternoon session.

U Thant will have a free hand to choose his chief assistant.

Both the U.S. and Russia backed away from previous positions in agreeing to U Thant for the job. Both of the big powers had tried to specify the number of deputies the Burmese would appoint and the areas from which they would be drawn.

The General Assembly was to meet this afternoon to elect U Thant. He will serve until April 1963.

U Thant, 52, a quiet but determined diplomat, broke the U.S.-Soviet deadlock over the issue of his principal advisers by telling the big powers he would name "a limited number." He refused to commit himself in advance to

Korea Orphans Here To Win Your Heart

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — They shun beds and don't like candy. They're bright-eyed, immaculately scrubbed and behave themselves. They sing with the voices of angels.

They're orphans, here to win your hearts.

Six little boys and 26 girls, all between the ages of 8 and 12, are here from South Korea on a 40-city good-will tour of the United States and Canada.

The children are members of the World Vision Korean Orphan Choir. They represent 13,000 orphans in South Korea and sing songs of gratitude and love.

Wide eyes grow wider as the youngsters travel America by bus, happily fulfilling a twin mission: Thanking Americans and Canadians who have contributed to 151 Korean institutions, and hoping for contributions to help construction of a 200-bed children's hospital near Seoul where free medical care will be given any orphan or needy child.

Traveling with them are a nurse, dietician, tutor, and American and Korean chaperones.

Tennessee Leaves 226 Direct Descendants

COALFIELD, Tenn. (AP) — Lena Ellen Tinker, matriarch of a six-generation family, is dead at 101 — leaving 226 direct descendants.

Mrs. Tinker, who died Monday, is survived by 5 children, 14 grandchildren, 35 great-grandchildren, 141 great-great-grandchildren and 31 great-great-great-grandchildren.

Recluse Leaves $400,000 Estate

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — When the late Nathaniel Worth, 92, was evicted from his secluded home last April, movers found mostly trash.

Later, they guessed they might have thrown out inadvertently as much as $22,000 that had been stuffed in unnoticed cans and jars.

Worthy, a former U.S. Treasury Department auditor, died last August.

He and his spinster daughter, Frances, had lived in seclusion and apparent poverty for 30 years but only Thursday did a family attorney disclose the value of Worthy's estate — $400,000.

Two Injured In Car Crash

Two passengers in an auto driven by Cecil Buskirk, 35, Columbus, were referred to a doctor for possible injuries received in a one-car mishap at about 1 p. m. yesterday on the Chillicothe - Williamsport Road, four miles south of Williamsport.

Buskirk attempted to avoid striking a huge rock in the middle of the road when he lost control of his auto, Deputy Pontious said.

The auto skidded on the berm, struck a fence and utility pole and rolled over on its top. The vehicle was demolished, the deputy said.

Kenney Wows Jersey Dems

Political Speech Given In Governor's Race

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — President Kennedy wowed New Jersey Democrats Thursday night with a Republican-needing stump speech aimed at helping underdog Richard J. Hughes in the state's race for governor.

Kennedy obviously enjoyed a two-hour respite from the burdens of the presidency as he put on the cap of party political leadership in an outdoor speech in the brisk November air to a rally of about 10,000 of the party faithful. This fell far short of the 50,000 throng that Hughes' supporters had hoped to assemble.

The President flew to Trenton from New York City, where he gave a boost to Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner in the latter's race for reelection. Kennedy flew back to Washington after a brief reception with New Jersey Democratic leaders and a 10-minute speech for Hughes.

Kennedy's endorsement of Wagner in New York was:

In Trenton, Kennedy was in old campaign form as he told the cheering crowd that Hughes, opposed by Republican James P. Mitchell, had had "a long and uphill campaign." Mitchell generally is credited with leading in a contest that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has said will have a direct bearing on Republican comeback efforts in Congress next year.

With a note of sarcasm in his voice, the bare-headed President, wearing a business suit and no topcoat, told the chilled crowd that Hughes had been downgraded too much.

"He has been written off more front pages of more papers supporting other candidates than any candidate I know, with the possible exception of myself about 18 months ago," Kennedy said.

Kennedy avoided any reference to Eisenhower, who has campaigned personally for Mitchell, who was labor secretary in his Cabinet. But if Democrats felt the President thus left any kind of political void, they had reasonable assurance that it would be filled with a scheduled appearance in Newark, N.J., tonight by former President Harry S. Truman.

Medic Says Cancer Certain To Be Brought under Control

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Isidor S. Ravdin, past president of the American College of Surgeons, says it is now certain cancer will come under control just as diabetes has.

An array of anticancer drugs may be the answer, Ravdin told reporters after presiding at the opening session of a conference of cancer specialists Thursday.

And he also said in a speech to the conference that it is highly likely that "before another year is passed, we may well find that certain of the common human malignant lesions" may be caused by viruses.

"We may have information on the control of such lesions by chemical agents," he said.

That was one of the more hopeful notes sounded at the two-day conference. The main theme was "cautious hopefulness" and the public was told that no breakthrough is in sight in the fight against the disease.

The conference, bringing together about 1,000 physicians and surgeons for a review of methods of treating cancer with chemicals, is sponsored by the Cancer Chemotherapy National Service Center, an agency of the Department of Welfare.

Dr. Ravdin, University of Pennsylvania surgeon who was the only civilian on the teams of doctors that performed the ileitis operation on former President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1956, said there had been heartening progress made in the past two years since the last conference.

One development, he said, was assurance that women who develop choriocarcinoma—a rare but quick spreading cancer—during pregnancy can in many cases be cured.

Another is that there has been some success in stopping cancers spread by a combination of surgery and application of a chemical at the time of operation and for three or four days after.

Many of the experts emphasized at the news conference that there are many types of cancer and there is no reason to believe any one means will ever control all of them.

1,000 Cons To Be Taken To New Pen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—About 1,000 inmates from Mansfield Reformatory will be transferred to a new institution at Lebanon next March, Corrections Commissioner Maury C. Koblenz says.

The move, following completion of the new $12 million structure Jan. 1, will solve half of the state's overcrowded prison problem, Koblenz said.

Mansfield now has a population of 2,500 compared to a capacity of 1,800.

The other half of the problem is Ohio Penitentiary at Columbus which has 4,500 inmates and a capacity of 2,500, Koblenz added. His division is now awaiting appropriations from the legislature to build another institution at Grafton, near Elyria.

The General Assembly appropriated $1 million. Another $11 million is needed to build a structure similar to the one at Lebanon. Nearly one-half million dollars worth of plans already have been drawn up for the Grafton institution.

Theft Suspect Apprehended

An Ashville area man, in custody of the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department, has signed a statement admitting the theft of $110 from the Teegardin Grain Company, Duvall, on Monday.

Sam Fausnaugh, Route 1, Ashville, was apprehended by the Fairfield County Sheriff's Department after a warrant for his arrest was forwarded to the neighboring county on Tuesday.

Boyd Teegardin, of the grain firm, reported the theft and furnished a description of the suspect. Teegardin reported that approximately $132 was taken from a safe in the office during business hours Monday.

Fausnaugh told Sheriff Walton W. Spangler and deputies he took $110 from a desk in the office. He said he did not disturb the open safe.

Fausnaugh will face charges of grand larceny during a preliminary hearing in Circleville Municipal Court. The affidavit was to be filed today by Teegardin.

any particular number from any particular areas and told the Soviets and the Americans they could take it or leave it.

U Thant said he would also tell the assembly after his election that he would consult with his advisers on important questions and work with them "in a spirit of mutual understanding." The Soviets originally demanded that the deputies have a virtual veto over the secretary-general's decisions but abandoned this stand weeks ago.

The United States and the Soviet Union also had agreed weeks ago that U Thant should get the job. But they could not agree on the nationalities of the deputies who officially will be closest to the new head of the U.N. secretariat.

The Soviet Union favored seven chief deputies—an American, Soviet, Latin American, African, West European, East European and Asian. The United States, Britain and France favored five, excluding the East European and Asian.

On Wednesday the United States and Britain said they were willing to let U Thant decide—and France indicated approval. Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Tower Blasters Handed Sentences

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — Two men were sentenced to eight years in prison Thursday for blowing up two microwave towers and a relay station in the Nevada-Utah desert.

Bernard Brous, 51, and Dale Jensen, 23, pleaded guilty to conspiracy and obstructing vital communications. The government dropped sabotage indictments.

Brous said he was commander in chief of the "American Republican Army." Jensen was his only known follower.

When arrested, Brous said the explosions last May 28 were set off to arouse interest in his "army," show the government its defenses were weak and avenge wrongs he felt were perpetrated by telephone companies.

Medic Says Cancer Certain To Be Brought Under Control

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Isidor S. Ravdin, past president of the American College of Surgeons, says it is now certain cancer will come under control just as diabetes has.

An array of anticancer drugs may be the answer, Ravdin told reporters after presiding at the opening session of a conference of cancer specialists Thursday.

And he also said in a speech to the conference that it is highly likely that "before another year is passed, we may well find that certain of the common human malignant lesions" may be caused by viruses.

"We may have information on the control of such lesions by chemical agents," he said.

That was one of the more hopeful notes sounded at the two-day conference. The main theme was "cautious hopefulness" and the public was told that no breakthrough is in sight in the fight against the disease.

The conference, bringing together about 1,000 physicians and surgeons for a review of methods of treating cancer with chemicals, is sponsored by the Cancer Chemotherapy National Service Center, an agency of the Department of Welfare.

Dr. Ravdin, University of Pennsylvania surgeon who was the only civilian on the teams of doctors that performed the ileitis operation on former President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1956, said there had been heartening progress made in the past two years since the last conference.

One development, he said, was assurance that women who develop choriocarcinoma—a rare but quick spreading cancer—during pregnancy can in many cases be cured.

Another is that there has been some success in stopping cancers spread by a combination of surgery and application of a chemical at the time of operation and for three or four days after.

Thurber Dies At Age of 66
NEW YORK (AP) — James Thurber, writer-humorist and cartoonist, whose loquacious dog drawings put people and events in perspective, died Thursday at the age of 66.

Thurber died of pneumonia at Doctors Hospital after undergoing surgery a month ago for a blood clot on the brain.

A master satirist, with what a colleague once described as "a firm grasp on confusion," Thurber delighted millions with his wit in his books, short stories, fables, articles, and cartoons.

He never lost his sense of humor, even when he went completely blind several years ago. An accident cost him the sight of one eye when he was six years old. He lost the sight of the other eye despite a long series of cataract operations.

1,000 Cons To Be Taken To New Pen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—About 1,000 inmates from Mansfield Reformatory will be transferred to a new institution at Lebanon next March, Corrections Commissioner Maury C. Koblenz said.

The move, following completion of the new $12 million structure Jan. 1, will solve half of the state's overcrowded prison problem, Koblenz said.

Mansfield now has a population of 2,500 compared to a capacity of 1,800.

The other half of the problem is Ohio Penitentiary at Columbus which has 4,500 inmates and a capacity of 2,500, Koblenz added. His division is now awaiting appropriations from the legislature to build another institution at Grafton, near Elyria.

The General Assembly appropriated $1 million. Another $11 million is needed to build a structure similar to the one at Lebanon. Nearly one-half million dollars worth of plans already have been drawn up for the Grafton institution.

Theft Suspect Apprehended

An Ashville area man, in custody of the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department, has signed a statement admitting the theft of $110 from the Teegardin Grain Company, Duval, on Monday.

Sam Fausnaugh, Route 1, Ashville, was apprehended by the Fairfield County Sheriff's Department after a warrant for his arrest was forwarded to the neighboring county on Tuesday.

Boyd Teegardin, of the grain firm, reported the theft and furnished a description of the suspect. Teegardin reported that approximately $132 was taken from a safe in the office during business hours Monday.

Fausnaugh told Sheriff Walton W. Spangler and deputies he took $110 from a desk in the office. He said he did not disturb the open safe.

Fausnaugh will face charges of grand larceny during a preliminary hearing in Circleville Municipal Court. The affidavit was to be filed today by Teegardin.

any particular number from any particular areas and told the Soviets and the Americans they could take it or leave it.

U Thant said he would also tell the assembly after his election that he would consult with his advisers on important questions and work with them "in a spirit of mutual understanding." The Soviets originally demanded that the deputies have a virtual veto over the secretary-general's decisions but abandoned this stand weeks ago.

The United States and the Soviet Union also had agreed weeks ago that U Thant should get the job. But they could not agree on the nationalities of the deputies who officially will be closest to the new head of the U.N. secretariat.

The Soviet Union favored seven chief deputies—an American, Soviet, Latin American, African, West European, East European and Asian. The United States, Britain and France favored five—excluding the East European and Asian.

On Wednesday the United States and Britain said they were willing to let U Thant decide—and France indicated approval. Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin, president of the Security Council this month, gave in Thursday without explanation and called the Security Council to meet to name Hammarskjold's successor.

Tower Blasters Handed Sentences

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — Two men were sentenced to eight years in prison Thursday for blowing up two microwave towers and a relay station in the Nevada-Utah desert.

Bernard Brous, 51, and Dale Jensen, 23, pleaded guilty to conspiracy and obstructing vital communications. The government dropped sabotage indictments.

Brous said he was commander in chief of the "American Republican Army." Jensen was his only known follower.

When arrested, Brous said the explosions last May 28 were set off to arouse interest in his "army," show the government its defenses were weak and avenge wrongs he felt were perpetrated by telephone companies.

Miss Patricia Aldenderfer, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hoover, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tedrow recently attended the graduation of Richard Lee Hoover at Great Lakes Naval Training Station at Great Lakes, Illinois.

Miss Susan Sabine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sabine was struck on her bicycle by a auto driven by Miss Nany Featheringham Wednesday morning while en route to school. Susan suffered cuts and bruises and was treated by a local physician.

Mrs. Warren Bastian has several oil paintings on display at the Johnsons Restaurant on South Parson Ave., Columbus.

MISS Liz Sark of Toledo is at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sark of Ashville, recovering from recent surgery.

Due to good weather a large number of entrants were present for the annual Community Club Halloween Parade Monday evening in downtown Ashville. The parade started promptly at 7 p. m., led by the Ashville School Band, and marched to the school auditorium where the judging took place.

Many weird and unusual costumes made the parade a delight, both to the young and old. Sam, a dog belonging to R. E. Featheringham, participated.

The judges found their job difficult but after much deliberation came up with these winners in the various age groups: Under 6 — Terry Lynn Cline, Johnny Johnson, Billy Hines, Jerry Pennington, Stevie Reno, Billy Golder, Debra Lynn Golder, Harold Dean Cline and Tammy Trego.

Children 6 to 10 — Becky Hoffman, Sally Tosca, Johnnie Hines, Janice Wilson, Jessie Butts, Bobbie Hines, Vicky Devors, Juanita Beach, Mary McMillan and Cris Cuafe.

Children 11 to 17 — Judy Speicher, Freddie George, Dennis Jones, Karen Gulick, Teresa Smith, Janet Hutchinson, Mary Ruth Nicodemus, Jennifer Hicks and Betty Baum.

ADULTS — Pamela Reno, Mable Foreman, Mrs. Thomas Rife, R. E. Featheringham, Mrs. Dwight Shellenburger, Mrs. Victory Curry, Evelyn Johnson, Mrs. Teddy Vickers and Pauline Hall.

Individual prizes were awarded to Marvin Hicks, Don Reno, Monia Thompson, Steve Clay, Warren Hoffman Jr., Billy Dean Hill, Beverly Koch, Joyce Wall, Terry Trego, Daphne Crosby, Karen Thompson, Andy Ward, Danny Hicks, Kathy Lipps, Joni Ward Sharon Foreman and Margaret Hicks.

Each entrant who marched in the parade was given a treat. All first place winners were awarded $3, second place, $2, and third place, $1. Individual winners were awarded $2.

Following the judging a street dance was held on E. Main St. to the music of the "Starliners". The Community Club provided free cider and donuts.

Court Reports Show Slight Backlog Drop

The number of cases pending in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court dropped by two during October as the criminal and civil backlog dropped to counterbalance a rise in pending domestic relations cases.

A total of 186 cases were awaiting disposition at the close of court business Oct. 31 compared to 188 pending Oct. 1. Of the backlog, 73 are domestic relations cases, 86 pertain to other civil matters and 27 are criminal filings.

There were 25 cases filed during last month, of which 14 were domestic relations, eight other civil and three criminal matters. A total of 27 cases reached disposition in October. Nine were domestic relations, with four cases tried to the court and five settled or dismissed.

Five cognovit and default judgments were handed down on other civil matters, along with three settlements or dismissals, one jury trial and one trial before the court.

OF THE criminal cases concluded, seven were tried to the court while one ended in a jury trial. No traffic point system matters were filed or terminated in the court last month.

The last date of filing for the median pending civil case is now May 27, 1961.

No matters were filed in the District Court of Appeals during October and no cases reached disposition. Four matters are still pending.

Cincinnati Teamster Rebels Handed New AFL-CIO Charter

WASHINGTON (AP)—The AFL-CIO has welcomed nearly 1,700 Cincinnati rebels from James B. Hoffa's Teamsters Union.

It gave them a charter of affiliation Thursday and predicted that more Teamsters would be jumping the fence soon.

Asked if this defection means the beginning of the end for Hoffa's 1.5 million member organization, AFL-CIO President George Meany replied:

"I would say this indicates there are considerable numbers of workers in the Teamsters who will vote for a clean decent union if they are given a chance."

Hoffa, whose Teamsters were kicked out of the AFL-CIO four years ago on corruption charges, had no comment.

Hoffa launched—and lost—a series of legal moves aimed at blocking the defection of the Cincinnati milk and ice cream drivers who voted 1,664 to 12 in government-conducted balloting Tuesday to quit the Teamsters for good.

James T. Luken, president of the rebel drivers, said "we're very glad to be back" in the AFL-CIO.

Three other Luken-led Teamster groups in Cincinnati are awaiting National Labor Board elections that will give formal recognition to their break with the Teamsters.

Luken said 4,000 Teamsters in Dayton, Ohio, and 5,000 in Columbus are also planning to bolt the huge, Hoffa-run organization.

Petitions for elections, said Luken, were filed Thursday with the NLRB by some of the Dayton and Columbus Teamsters who wish to switch their allegiance.

Earlier, several hundred soft drink delivery drivers at Cincinnati bolted the Teamsters to join the AFL-CIO Brewery Workers Union.

Meany repeated his assertion that about 100 Teamster locals throughout the country want to bail out of the Teamsters.

All of them, he added, will be welcomed in the AFL-CIO after they arrange transfer of bargaining rights through NLRB procedures.

He said he intends to take in more Teamster rebels within a few weeks. He declined to identify them.

Admission of the Cincinnati milk and ice cream drivers Thursday is the first use of the power voted to Meany by AFL-CIO chiefs several weeks ago to take in groups quitting Hoffa's union.

Meanwhile in Cincinnati, the NLRB set four more elections next Tuesday for groups of former Ohio members of the Teamsters Union.

Three elections are for former members of Soft Drink Drivers Local 152 at Pepsi-Cola bottling plants in Hamilton, Blanchester and Ripley. The fourth is for members of Luken's AFL-CIO Dairy Drivers Union employed by Beatrice Foods Co. at Cincinnati and Maysville, Ky.

Patent Question

Ever since World War II, the question who owns patent rights on inventions produced with the aid of government research funds has been vexing, and because of the accelerated pace of government-sponsored research, it is a question which must soon be answered.

There are indications that industry is becoming more reluctant to assume research projects for the government unless rights to commercial exploitation of any fruits of such efforts remain in the hands of private ownership.

Prior to World War II, there was no question concerning patent ownership, with nearly all research outlays provided by private sources. There was a vast upsurge of interest by government agencies — principally the Defense Department — in advanced research during the war, and even more rapidly mushrooming aid offered by many bureaus of the federal government in the last decade.

Many restrictive clauses have been injected into research contracts by some agencies which prohibit the private development of inventions uncovered in the course of such projects.

Acknowledging the high cost to the taxpayers of supporting a major portion of the costs of private laboratories and expensive research equipment, the Defense Department has required for many years royalty-free use of patented devices and techniques developed under its contracts. Thus, while the government in effect purchased valuable inventions from its contractors, the private developers were free to utilize whatever commercial values could be gained from inventions.

Two important government agencies now prohibit completely any private claims to such inventions. The Atomic Energy Commission and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration both claim title to, and exclusive ownership of, any discoveries made under their research grants. In the case of NASA, these rights may be made available to any other vendor the government body chooses.

This policy has driven a number of would-be suppliers away from contracts involving the all-important exploration and exploitation of space. Because the extent of industry's refusal to contribute its resources and technology which could result in the development of valuable inventive advances to a competitor is not readily ascertainable, little concern has been expressed by NASA officials.

Now, however, the issue of patent rights and ownership is the primary stumbling block to start of the space communications network. Until this issue is settled, and NASA is working on a new set of rules which may be adopted government-wide contracts cannot be awarded and the great amount of research work still necessary will remain at a standstill.

In a short time the long battle over patent ownership may be ended. Whether it is settled in the best interests of the nation will be judged by whether it repels or attracts the essential know-how which only industry possesses.

Office Bachelors Enumerated

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — No office 200 is complete without its quota of bachelors.

Most of the men in the average business firm, as every secretary knows, are already married—some for so long they have no memory of a previous state of life.

But sprinkled among them are a few faster-footed brethren who have managed to escape the marital yoke. They are in turn pursued or denounced by all the unwed maidens in the office.

Office bachelors come in all ages, shapes and sizes, but if you look around where you work here are a few types you may recognize:

Nervous Ned—He turns pale if a woman gets within 10 feet of him. He has been suspicious of women ever since a girl brought him a rose in kindergarten, and he stuck his finger on the thorn.

Hungry Henry—"What's cooking tonight, baby?" he asks each stenographer in turn. But the wise ones know he isn't asking for a date—he's just fishing for a free invitation to a home-cooked dinner.

Practical Phil—He's interested in girls' figures, all right, but only the figures in their bank account. His slogan is, "Heaven helps the poor working girl, but a poor working boy has to look out for himself." He is looking for a rich widow, something you don't find in every office.

Soulful Sam—He believes in the Bohemian life. He will spout poetry to a girl by the hour, but the moment she makes him pause to look at the rings in a jewelry store window he turns and flees for safety.

Cynical Sid—"All women are alike—they're just looking for a man ticket," he tells one and all. But when this skunkin' squire takes a girl out for the evening, she's lucky if he buys her a hot dog.

Troubled Tom—When he leans on a girl's shoulder it isn't romance. He merely wants to get closer to her ear so he can pour into it the sad story of his life of woe. He really doesn't want to get married. He wants to be adopted.

Curious Charlie—Every Thursday he takes the boss' secretary to lunch. She has the lurid idea he is courting her. Actually he is merely pumping her to find out what really is going on behind the scenes in the office.

Experienced Edward—"Never again—I'm a three-time loser," he wails after his third divorce. But a month later he elopes with a college coed half his age. "Just like a man," agree the prim old maids in the office.

Dimpled Dan—He's ruddy-cheeked and terribly handsome, and every girl in the place hears wedding bells when she sees him. But Dan never shook off those apron strings. He phones his mother three times a day to be sure she is all right, and she phones him back three times a day to be sure everything is okay with him, too.

Bumptious Bert—"Boy, you should've seen the babe I was out with last night—a real honey," he brags every morning. But his tales of Romeo revels are all imaginary. Bert is too bashful to ask for a date. He spends his evenings studying correspondence lessons in guitar playing or attending lectures on birdlife.

Available Albert—For 20 years the married men have regularly invited Albert home when they needed an extra man at a dinner party. He is safe and single and plans to stay that way. "Who needs a wife?" he asks. "I know how to sew on buttons."

Mrs. Helen Southard, National YWCA psychologist, says togetherness has been misused and misapplied. Mrs. Southard, who have you been hanging around with?

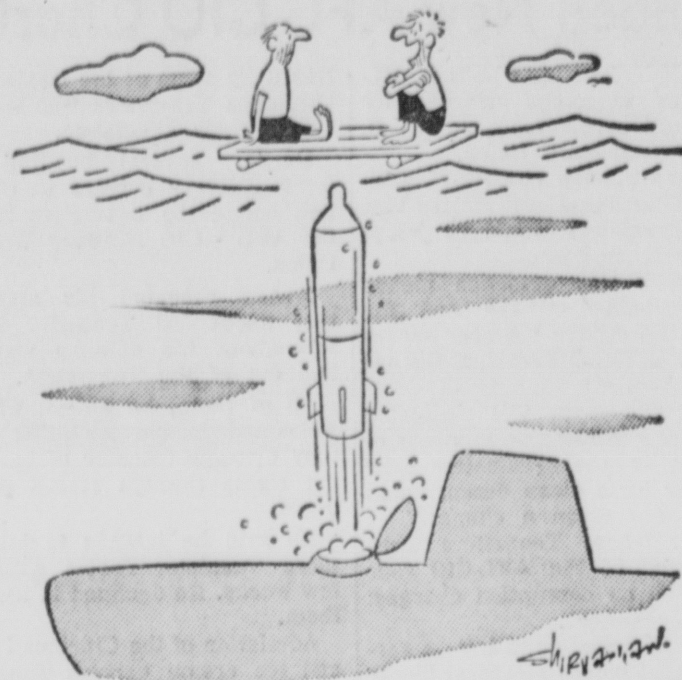

Mrs. Southard says togetherness was used as a solution for all manner of family problems. It didn't help divorce, for instance.

Mrs. Southard says being with others all the time does not constitute togetherness. Amongness, then?

"Family programs and togetherness have fallen into disrepute," says Mrs. Southard. In these 50-megaton times, it's every-one for himself.

Mrs. Southard reasons that an individual has to have his own resources and be able to get along on his own. Especially after his unemployment compensation runs out.

AT A GAY LITERARY PARTY, a slightly spiffed author embraced a stranger by mistake. He apologized, "No offense intended, madam; I thought you were my wife." "A fine husband you must be," she snorted. "You overstepped, miserable, incompetent lout!" "You see," exclaimed the author triumphantly, "You even talk like her!"

Jerome Weidman characterized one married pair he met backstage as "perfect material for an airport: he's idle, and she's wild."

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

What could make a tiny baby shriek and scream all the time?

Colic — irritable crying and gas-filled tummy — aches that strike when Baby's only a few weeks old! He howls until he's exhausted, unless escaping gas deflates his tummy — a-ah.

A hot water bottle or the warmth of your chest may soothe his colic. Occasionally, a suppository or small enema can release painful bubbles and quiet uncontrollable screaming.

Traditionally three months, colic may linger longer. Many conditions cause it. That's why most remedies work some of the time, but none all of the time!

When a hungry baby cries for doubles, an extra bottle can bring hours of quiet. Your doctor may change the formula. Indigestible sugar explodes into gallons of gas inside tiny intestines.

If Baby's allergic to cow's milk, you'll find new peace in soybean, goat's milk or other special formulas.

Unless the nipple's firmly in his mouth, air will pour down with the formula. A clogged nipple also makes him suck in extra air. Bled, he drinks only a few ounces. But air soon moves on, leaving his stomach empty and hungry — and he cries!

Hold Baby in the crook of your arm with his trunk upright while he nurses. As air floats to the top of his stomach, it comes up easily. B u b b l e him every ounce or so — more if necessary!

Ask your doctor about lime water USP. A teaspoon in each bottle often quiets colic. Cuddling, sedatives and pacifiers help, too.

Remember, every mother needs time off from colic's fever pitch. Don't feel selfish leaving your youngster howling and screaming in someone else's arms.

When you return, relaxed and refreshed, Baby will appreciate the change more than you!

Dr. Fern's mailbox is wide open for letters from readers. While he cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Fern in care of this newspaper.

State Department Change

By George Sokolsky

Circular No. 27 of the State Department indicates that a reorganization of that Department is taking place and that unnecessary positions are being abolished, which is all to the good if it is done properly and in the interest of efficiency and competence.

If jobs are shifted from State to the CIA without removing personnel, there is no actual economy. As a matter of fact, the CIA requires simultaneous reorganization with a view to eliminating from it doctrinaire personalities who use government positions to pursue private causes. Whether they are Left or Right Wing, clerks should not be making policy which the top men accept as their own.

The State Department has outgrown its usefulness and has become a very confused organization in which policy is manipulated by Deskmen without regard to national responsibility. Then the top echelons cover up the errors of the lower staff men so that public criticism will not become too noisy and excited. As some put it, the men on the Fifth Floor do not know what those on the Fourth Floor are doing.

No country can afford such confusion and the Cuban fiasco brought State Department and CIA inefficiency to a crisis. The public has not forgotten the Cuban fiasco and is not likely to. It will continue to plague the Kennedy Administration. Covering up to protect those in State and CIA who are responsible for the Cuban fiasco is an administrative and political error.

Apparently the current reorganization of the State Department has something to do with the errors made by Deskmen, although opponents of the Administration insist that the reason for the changes is political. They maintain that the purpose is to make room for new political appointees, which would not be unusual in our government.

If that is correct, it is faulty administration, but a reorganization of the State Department can be very useful at the present time. Another criticism of the State Department is that its budgetary difficulties arise from the costly trips to Africa by Governor Harriman, Adlai Stevenson, Vice President Johnson and others who traipse about the Earth.

Some of these trips, such as Vice President Johnson's, have been of great value to this country. Those of Soapy Williams have not been productive of any particular value in Africa. The regional conferences of Chester Bowles have thus far been fruitless. There is a lot of motion in the State Department, but motion of itself is no evidence of performance. On the other hand, precisely how would the critics of the Department reorganize it so that it can be a more effective agency of government?

The job of the State Department is not to make war. Its task is to get along as well as it can with other nations, friends and foes. Its personnel must be trained to seek peace and agreements, not to stir up trouble and disagreement. Other departments of government may be engaged in espionage as in propaganda, but State must move in a mannerly and friendly fashion. Its men must maintain friendly personal relations with men of other countries, even enemies, and there must always be a readiness to get down and talk.

It is the President's function to decide on policy and to instruct State as to what it should do. The President, not Adlai Stevenson, must be responsible for national policy and national conduct. If, however, the President chooses to accept Adlai Stevenson's advice, Woodrow Wilson accepted Colonel House's advice, that is the President's responsibility and it is up to people to determine whether his judgement is correct or false.

In a word, the President may seek and accept advice where he chooses, but the responsibility for what happens is his not his advisers. For instance, if Adlai Stevenson was wrong about Cuba, as he undoubtedly was, it is the President who is responsible for accepting his advice, just as he is responsible for the errors Chester Bowles has made in the Two China Policy. Ours is a government of fixed responsibility and that responsibility cannot be delegated to associates, assistants or underlings.

Franklin D. Roosevelt expanded government beyond the absolute necessities of efficient administration and the Administration has continued along those lines but that does not affect responsibility. This is often forgotten in the motives of so-called important figures who speak for themselves only.

Welfare Aide Orders $101 Million Slash

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff has ordered this year's spending plans of his department cut by about $101,945,000.

The ordered reductions are in response to President Kennedy directive to his Cabinet officers to trim spending for the current fiscal year.

Details of how the cuts were to be applied were not available.

Patent Question

Ever since World War II, the question who owns patent rights on inventions produced with the aid of government research funds has been vexing, and because of the accelerated pace of government-sponsored research, it is a question which must soon be answered.

There are indications that industry is becoming more reluctant to assume research projects for the government unless rights to commercial exploitation of any fruits of such efforts remain in the hands of private ownership.

Prior to World War II, there was no question concerning patent ownership, with nearly all research outlays provided by private sources. There was a vast upsurge of interest by government agencies — principally the Defense Department — in advanced research during the war, and even more rapidly mushrooming aid offered by many bureaus of the federal government in the last decade.

Many restrictive clauses have been injected into research contracts by some agencies which prohibit the private development of inventions uncovered in the course of such projects.

Acknowledging the high cost to the taxpayers of supporting a major portion of the costs of private laboratories and expensive research equipment, the Defense Department has required for many years royalty-free use of patented devices and techniques developed under its contracts. Thus, while the government in effect purchased valuable inventions from its contractors, the private developers were free to utilize whatever commercial values could be gained from inventions.

Two important government agencies now prohibit completely any private claims to such inventions. The Atomic Energy Commission and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration both claim title to, and exclusive ownership of, any discoveries made under their research grants. In the case of NASA, these rights may be made available to any other vendor the government body chooses.

This policy has driven a number of would-be suppliers away from contracts involving the all-important exploration and exploitation of space. Because the extent of industry's refusal to contribute its resources and technology which could result in the development of valuable inventive advances to a competitor is not readily ascertainable, little concern has been expressed by NASA officials.

Now, however, the issue of patent rights and ownership is the primary stumbling block to start of the space communications network. Until this issue is settled, and NASA is working on a new set of rules which may be adopted government-wide contracts cannot be awarded and the great amount of research work still necessary will remain at a standstill.

In a short time the long battle over patent ownership may be ended. Whether it is settled in the best interests of the nation will be judged by whether it repels or attracts the essential know-how which only industry possesses.

Office Bachelors Enumerated

NEW YORK (AP) — No office zoo is complete without its quota of bachelors.

Most of the men in the average business firm, as every secretary knows, are already married—some for so long they have no memory of a previous state of life.

But sprinkled among them are a few faster-footed brethren who have managed to escape the marital yoke. They are in turn pursued or denounced by all the unwed maidens in the office.

Office bachelors come in all ages, shapes and sizes, but if you look around where you work here are a few types you may recognize:

Nervous Ned—He turns pale if a woman gets within 10 feet of him. He has been suspicious of women ever since a girl brought him a rose in kindergarten, and he stuck his finger on the thorn.

Hungry Henry — "What's cooking tonight, baby?" he asks each stenographer in turn. But the wise ones know he isn't asking for a

AT A GAY LITERARY PARTY, a slightly spifficated author embraced a stranger by mistake. He apologized, "No offense intended, madam; I thought you were my wife."

"A fine husband you must be," she snorted. "You overstuffed, miserable, incompetent lout!" "You see," exclaimed the author triumphantly, "You even talk like her!"

Jerome Weidman characterized one married pair he met backstage as "perfect material for an airport: he's idle, and she's wild."

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

What could make a tiny baby shriek and scream all the time?

Colic — irritable crying and gas-filled tummy — aches that strike when Baby's only a few weeks old! He howls until he's exhausted, unless escaping gas deflates his tummy — aache.

A hot water bottle or the warmth of your chest may soothe his colic. Occasionally, a suppository or small enema can release painful bubbles and quiet uncontrollable screaming.

Traditionally three months, colic may linger lots longer. Many conditions cause it. That's why most remedies work some of the time, but none all of the time!

When a hungry baby cries for doubles, an extra bottle can bring hours of quiet. Your doctor may change the formula. Indigestible sugar explodes into gallons of gas inside tiny intestines.

If Baby's allergic to cow's milk, you'll find new peace in soybean, goat's milk or other special formulas.

Unless the nipple's firmly in his mouth, air will pour down with the formula. A clogged nipple also makes him suck in extra air. Bloat, he drinks only a few ounces. But air soon moves on, leaving his stomach empty and hungry — and he cries!

Hold Baby in the crook of your arm with his trunk upright while

he nurses. As air floats to the top of his stomach, it comes up easily. B u b b l e him every ounce or so — more if necessary!

Ask your doctor about lime water USP. A teaspoon in each bottle often quiets colic. Cuddling, sedatives and pacifiers help, too.

Remember, every mother needs time off from colic's fever pitch. Don't feel selfish leaving your youngster howling and screaming in someone else's arms.

When you return, relaxed and refreshed, Baby will appreciate the change more than you!

State Department Change

By George Sokolsky

Circular No. 27 of the State Department indicates that a reorganization of that Department is taking place and that unnecessary positions are being abolished, which is all to the good if it is done properly and in the interest of efficiency and competence.

If jobs are shifted from State to the CIA without removing personnel, there is no actual economy. As a matter of fact, the CIA requires simultaneous reorganization with a view to eliminating from it doctrinaire personalities who use government positions to pursue private causes. Whether they are Left or Right Wing, clerks should not be making policy which the top men accept as their own.

The State Department has outgrown its usefulness and has become a very confused organization in which policy is manipulated by Deskmen without regard to national responsibility. Miss Maughmer, Mr. Long Exchange Marriage Vows

MRS. ROGER DARRELL LONG

Miss Carol Sue Maughmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark W. Maughmer, Route 3, was united in marriage to Mr. Roger Darrell Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Long, Route 1, New Holland, on Saturday, Oct. 14, at 7:30 in the evening. The Reverend Paul I. Wachus officiated at the candlelight service in the First Methodist Church.

Arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums graced the altar. Candles were lighted by Mr. Charles Long, brother of the groom. Organ selections played by Mr. William Russell of Kingston were: "Serenade", by Schubert; "I Love Thee", by Grieg; "Why Do I Love Thee", by Kern; "At Dawning", by Cadman; "Clair de Lune", by Debussy and "Because" by d'Hardelot.

Vocal numbers sang by Mrs. Neal Corcoran of Clarksburg were "Whether Thou Goest", by Singer; "Till There Was You", by Willron and "Oh! Promise Me" by deKoven. The Lord's Prayer by Malotte was included in the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white bridal satin with a scalloped neckline and long pointed sleeves. The sheath skirt featured a peek-a-boo hemline and pleated rear-paneled overskirt. A rhinestone tiara held her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white and gold chrysanthemums.

Miss Joy Ann Maughmer was maid-of-honor for her sister. She wore a blue satin sheath with scalloped neckline and rear paneled overskirt. Her bouquet consisted of white and gold mums.

Mr. Jack Tarbill of New Holland served as best man for the groom. Ushers were Mr. Paul Morris and Mr. Darrell Wisecup, both of Williamsport; Mr. Gail Wolfe, Circleville; and Mr. Clark M. Maughmer, brother of the bride.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony. Hostesses were Miss Diane Corcoran of Clarksburg, Miss Judith Reed of Columbus, Miss Patricia Beale of Mt. Sterling, Mrs. Judith Wolfe of Circleville, and Mrs. Alma J. Adams, sister of the groom.

The bride is a 1959 graduate of Jackson Twp. High School and is associated with the Nationwide Insurance Co., Columbus.

The groom is a 1959 graduate of Atlanta High School, attended Ohio University in Athens and is presently in Texas for basic training with the U. S. Air Force.

Family Circle Meet Features Buffet

The Lutheran Family Circle met Sunday evening for a carry-in supper in the Parish House of Trinity Lutheran Church.

Autumn floral arrangements graced the dining tables for the social hour.

The meeting was opened with group singing followed by a devotional period conducted by Douglas Good. He recited a poem entitled "Goldenrod" and sang "We Are Tiny Flowers". Sally Hines provided the piano accompaniment.

Mrs. Ed. Cross conducted the business session. Plans were discussed to sponsor a turkey supper sometime in November. A list of new officers for the circle was read. This ballot will be voted on at the next regular meeting.

Following the business meeting, a program period was conducted. This featured a Bible quiz and a Halloween masquerade parade of Junior Leaguers.

The committee in charge of the dining room and kitchen were Pastor and Mrs. Carl G. Zehner, Mr. and Mrs. Marian Good and Mr. and Mrs. John Smith.

Those in charge of the program were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gutzeit and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Cross.

Area Rugs From Spain

Enhance Home's Decor

This season, home furnishing experts, shops and departments are stressing colorful, strikingly different area rugs from Spain.

Many of these rugs are exact copies of area rugs used centuries ago in Spain — which proves that the currently popular area rugs are no novelty, by any means.

Some of the most interesting and attractive rugs we've looked at are exact copies of the rugs used on the floors of the Moorish castles of Spain in which many of the interiors of "El Cid" were filmed.

Since Spain's almost legendary hero, who finally drove the Moors from Spain, lived in the 11th century, the furnishings, especially the rugs of that era, had a distinctly Moorish design and "feel".

So today's Spanish area rugs are truly traditional, yet they fit into the most modern interior.

The best are made by hand, the craft handed down from father to son, the colors and designs never varying.

Such colorful rugs help to dress up a room and give it an air of luxury.

Although they are at home in traditional or period interiors, we find them particularly effective with contemporary furnishings, whose simplicity of design needs additional interest. This is provided by the distinct medieval flavor of the rugs with their formalized animals and birds in the heraldic style.

Somehow, the rug designs blend in perfectly with the most modern of interiors. They are actually much easier to use effectively in the home than the larger, wall-to-wall carpeting.

Many homes have a large open plan that needs separating into areas. Often, too, a large room is used for many different purposes, such as a dining area at one end, or a writing and study corner. The area rug is by far the best way to define these areas and,

NEW "MRS. OHIO" — Mrs. Donald (Wanda) Gillette, Route 1, Proctorville, 36-year-old mother of two children, is crowned the new "Mrs. Ohio" by her predecessor, Mrs. Gaynelle Willis of Washington C. H. Mrs. Gillette won the honor by besting 15 other leading Ohio homemakers in the state finals of the 23rd annual "Mrs. America" contest in Columbus, Nov. 1 and 2. Mrs. Dwane (Barbara) Johnson of Akron was runner-up. The new "Mrs. Ohio" will represent the state in the national "Mrs. America" finals, Nov. 13-27. The contest was sponsored in this area by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co.

Area Rugs From Spain Enhance Home's Decor

In addition, they can easily be moved for a welcome or necessary change of arrangement.

Of course, the way we use these rugs today is vastly different from the way they were used in medieval times. After all, many of the old castles of El Cid's day were huge and drafty, and the rugs were used profusely for warmth as well as decoration, some of them, in fact, were even hung on the walls. And this can be done today, using the Spanish rugs with heavy fringe to fine effect.

You may not have a castle in Spain, but these rugs can bring something of the color and atmosphere of ancient Spain into your home.

The Monday Club has cancelled a meeting previously scheduled for Monday, Nov. 6.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 20. Mrs. Tom Renick will speak on the topic "Reminiscences".

Will Cleaning Make My New Carpet Old?

It need not, thanks to the new, scientific Host Drycleaning Process. Many people rightly believe shampooing carpet with suds or foam merely brightens the surface by washing dirt downward. This hastens matting and resoiling. New Host Drycleaning actually removes dirt, as it brightens. The fibers are springy and the texture revived like new. It is clean.

Host is the new process recommended by Carpet Manufacturers. It is better, safer, easier. Rooms can be used instantly. You can rent the Host Electric Brush and clean your carpet at a big saving. Host will clean wool, cotton, or any synthetic. The job is completed without dust, dangerous fumes, musty odor, or shrinkage.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

And a Little Child . . .

DEAR ABBY: In your column a woman wrote that she would like to know who God is. God is a spirit. Just as beautiful and wonderful as He can be. God made all things out of nothing. God is everywhere. God had no beginning. He always was and He always will be.

I am in the second grade. I am seven years old and my name is

MARY MARGARET

DEAR MARY MARGARET: Your letter is a treasure and I hope you don't mind my printing it. I want my readers to see for themselves that in these troubled times there are children who are still being raised properly.

DEAR ABBY: I've been going to this doctor for several weeks and I like him more every time I see him. I could easily love him, and I have reason to believe that his interest in me is more than professional. How can I find out if it is only his wonderful bedside manner or if he cares for me? I don't want to do anything bold or unethical. He is unmarried and so am I. He would make a dream husband. Also tell me how I can get rid of his nurse. She sticks to him like glue.

COULD CARE

DEAR COULD: Unless the doctor asks to see you socially, be assured that his interest in you is strictly professional. Don't attempt to "get rid" of his nurse. Her presence is necessary.

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend and I have gone steady for a year. I am 15 and he is 18. He has enlisted in the Army and is due to be called soon. He said that when he goes into the Army he wants us to break up. He feels it would be unfair to me to be tied down to a fellow who isn't around. He wants me to go with others and have fun. He says I am too young to promise to "wait for him." I am sure he is the one for me and I want to wait for him. I know I couldn't enjoy the company of another boy. What should I do?

SOLDIER'S GIRL
DEAR SOLDIER'S GIRL: Do as he says, and go with others while he is gone. If there is faithfulness in your heart it will remain there until he returns. Better test it. You are only 15 and too young to wear a reserved sign.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MINNIE: Sorry, but his net income does not make up for his gross immaturity. Lose him.

Miss Maughmer, Mr. Long Exchange Marriage Vows

MRS. ROGER DARRELL LONG

Miss Carol Sue Maughmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark W. Maughmer, Route 3, was united in marriage to Mr. Roger Darrell Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Long, Route 1, New Holland, on Saturday, Oct. 14, at 7:30 in the evening. The Reverend Paul I. Wachus officiated at the candlelight service in the First Methodist Church.

Arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums graced the altar. Candles were lighted by Mr. Charles Long, brother of the groom. Organ selections played by Mr. William Russell of Kingston were: "Serenade," by Schubert; "I Love Thee," by Grieg; "Why Do I Love Thee," by Kern; "At Dawning," by Cadman; "Clair de Lune," by Debussy and "Because" by d'Hardelot.

Vocal numbers sang by Mrs. Neal Corcoran of Clarksburg were "Whether Thou Goest," by Singer; "Till There Was You," by Willron and "Oh! Promise Me" by deKoven. The Lord's Prayer by Malotte was included in the ceremony.

loped neckline and long pointed sleeves. The sheath skirt featured a peek-a-boo hemline and pleated rear-paneled overskirt. A rhinestone tiara held her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white and gold chrysanthemums.

Miss Joy Ann Maughmer was maid-of-honor for her sister. She wore a blue satin sheath with scalloped neckline and rear paneled overskirt. Her bouquet consisted of white and gold mums.

Mr. Jack Tarbill of New Holland served as best man for the groom. Ushers were Mr. Paul Morris and Mr. Darrell Wisecup, both of Williamsport; Mr. Gail Wolfe, Circleville and Mr. Clark M. Maughmer, brother of the bride.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony. Hostesses were Miss Diane Corcoran of Clarksburg, Miss Judith Reed of Columbus, Miss Patricia Beale of Mt. Sterling, Mrs. Judith Wolfe of Circleville, and Mrs. Alma Jean Adams, sister of the groom.

The bride is a 1959 graduate of Jackson Twp. High School and is associated with the Nationwide Insurance Co., Columbus.

The groom is a 1959 graduate of Atlanta High School, attended Ohio University in Athens and is presently in Texas for basic training with the U. S. Air Force.

Family Circle Meet Features Buffet

The Lutheran Family Circle met Sunday evening for a carry-in supper in the Parish House of Trinity Lutheran Church.

Autumn floral arrangements graced the dining tables for the social hour.

The meeting was opened with group singing followed by a devotional period conducted by Douglas Good. He recited a poem entitled "Goldenrod" and sang "We Are Tiny Flowers". Sally Hines provided the piano accompaniment.

Mrs. Ed. Cross conducted the business session. Plans were discussed to sponsor a turkey supper sometime in November. A list of new officers for the circle was read. This ballot will be voted on at the next regular meeting.

Following the business meeting, a program period was conducted. This featured a Bible quiz and a Halloween masquerade parade of Junior Leaguers.

The committee in charge of the dining room and kitchen were Pastor and Mrs. Carl G. Zehner, Mr. and Mrs. Marian Good and Mr. and Mrs. John Smith.

Those in charge of the program were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gutatz and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Cross.

She's an expert at judo, grenade-throwing and rifle.

NEW "MRS. OHIO" — Mrs. Donald (Wanda) Gillette, Route 1, Proctorville, 36-year-old mother of two children, is crowned the new "Mrs. Ohio" by her predecessor, Mrs. Gaynelle Willis of Washington C. H. Mrs. Gillette won the honor by besting 15 other leading Ohio homemakers in the state finals of the 23rd annual "Mrs. America" contest in Columbus, Nov. 1 and 2. Mrs. Dwane (Barbara) Johnson of Akron was runner-up. The new "Mrs. Ohio" will represent the state in the national "Mrs. America" finals, Nov. 13-27. The contest was sponsored in this area by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co.

Area Rugs From Spain Enhance Home's Decor

This season, home furnishing experts, shops and departments are stressing colorful, strikingly different area rugs from Spain. Many of these rugs are exact copies of area rugs used centuries ago in Spain — which proves that the currently popular area rugs is no novelty, by any means.

Some of the most interesting and attractive rugs we've looked at are exact copies of the rugs used on the floors of the Moorish castles of Spain in which many of the interiors of "El Cid" were filmed.

Since Spain's almost legendary hero, who finally drove the Moors from Spain, lived in the 11th century, the furnishings, especially the rugs of that era, had a distinctly Moorish design and "feel". So today's Spanish area rugs are truly traditional, yet they fit into the most modern interior.

The best are made by hand, the craft handed down from father to son, the colors and designs never varying.

Such colorful rugs help to dress up a room and give it an air of luxury.

Although they are at home in traditional or period interiors, we find them particularly effective with contemporary furnishings, whose simplicity of design needs additional interest. This is provided by the distinct medieval flavor of the rugs with their formalized animals and birds in the heraldic style.

Somewhat, the rug designs blend in perfectly with the most modern of interiors. They are actually much easier to use effectively in the home than the larger, wall-to-wall carpeting.

Many homes have a large open plan that needs separating into areas. Often, too, a large room is used for many different purposes, such as a dining area at one end, or a writing and study corner. The area rug is by far the best way to define these areas and, in addition, they can easily be moved for a welcome or necessary change of arrangement.

Of course, the way we use these rugs today is vastly different from the way they were used in medieval times. After all, many of the old castles of El Cid's day were huge and drafty, and the rugs were used profusely for warmth as well as decoration, some of them, in fact, were even hung on the walls. And this can be done today, using the Spanish rugs with heavy fringe to fine effect.

You may not have a castle in Spain, but these rugs can bring something of the color and atmosphere of ancient Spain into your home.

Worship Every Week ---

Nazarenes To Hear Cuban Missionary

REV. S. L. HENDRIX

The Rev. Spurgeon L. Hendrix, whose work as a Nazarene educator and missionary in Cuba has been suspended by the political unrest there, is on furlough in the United States, doing deputation work among churches of the denomination.

The Rev. Hendrix will speak at the local Church of the Nazarene during the 7:30 p. m. service Sunday.

The Nazarene Missionary was sent to Cuba in August, 1956, as a superintendent of the field and to direct a Bible School.

Previously he had served for 15 years as a teacher and missionary in Argentina for the Church of the Nazarene.

Rev. Hendrix will describe the island nation and its people and tell of the church program there. He will show slides and illustrate his talk with slides and motion pictures.

The Rev. R. Dale Fruehling, pastor of the church, has extended a welcome to the public to hear Rev. Hendrix's address.

Church of the Nazarene

Worship Service in the Church of the Nazarene will begin at 10:30 a. m. Those serving in the armed forces from the local congregation will be honored.

The adult choir will sing "Battle Hymn of the Republic" directed by Mrs. R. Dale Fruehling. The pastor will bring the message.

Superintendent Dawson Park will open the Sunday school hour at 9:30 a. m. Mrs. Daryl Thompson will conduct the children's assemblies. The Sunday school offering of the first Sunday of each month goes into the building fund.

The Junior Society and the Young People's Society will meet at 6:30 p. m. The topic for the Young People's meeting will be "What Makes A Successful Marriage?"

In the 7:30 p. m. evangelistic service, the Rev. Spurgeon Hendrix will be guest speaker. The Rev. Hendrix, a missionary to Cuba, recently has been called to the States. His message and pictures of Christian work in Cuba will tell of the Communist situation there as well as the missionary endeavor of the Church of the Nazarene.

Gospel Center

Worship Service will begin at 10:30 a. m. in the Circleville Gospel Center. The Rev. Harley Bennett, pastor of the Church of Christ in Christian Union, Cleveland Avenue, Columbus, will bring the morning message.

Junior Church will be held at 10:30 a. m. in the Church annex. Sunday School will be held at 9:30 a. m. The opening will be in charge of Joseph Moats. The song service will be directed by Frank Allen.

Youth Fellowship will meet at 6:30 a. m. All young people from the seventh grade through high school are invited.

The Sunday Evening Service will be held at 7:30 p. m. This will be a service of song and praise. The Rev. Robert Miller, of Lancaster, will deliver the message.

First Baptist

Superintendent Jacob Reider will be in charge when Sunday School convenes at 9:30 a. m. The lesson will be taken from Matthew 25:31-46.

Morning Worship Services will follow at 10:30 a. m. with Mrs. Richard Compton as pianist. A solo "I Know Who Holds Tomorrow" will be sung by Phyllis Ecard. The pastor, W. A. Baria, will deliver the message.

Training Union starts at 6:30 p. m. with Richard Tucker as director. A class is provided for all ages.

The Evening Worship Services follow at 7:30 p. m. with songs, prayer and special music. The pastor will deliver the message. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Reider will be in charge of the nursery for each worship service.

First Methodist

The Rev. Paul I. Wachs, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will use for his sermon subject Sunday "The Parts of Peace." He will read the scripture lesson from Philippians 4:4-10. There will be a service of baptism and reception of members provided in both services.

The anthem for the 8:30 a. m. service will be presented by the Youth Choir. They will sing "In Pastures Green" by Bixby. The Senior Choir will sing "Heavenly Light" by A. Kopylov for the anthem in the 10:45 a. m. service. Mr. William Russell will preside at the organ for both services.

A nursery for preschool age children is available each Sunday morning during both worship services. Sunday School classes for all ages will meet at 9:30 a. m.

The Junior High Methodist Youth Fellowship will meet at 5:30 Sunday evening. They will have as guests several of their school teachers. Together they will discuss Nursery Care, Parish House 10:45 tons. "Can You Be Colorblind?" will be the topic discussed by the Senior High group at 7 p. m.

Calvary E.U.B.

The Unified Service at Calvary E.U.B. Church will begin at 9 a. m. with Morning Worship. The sermon will be on the theme of evangelism, the primary task of the church.

The scripture lesson found in Ephesians 4:1-16 will be read by the pastor, the Rev. G. H. Niswender, who will be assisted in the service by the Sunday School Superintendent, Carl Agin.

The congregational hymns will include: "I Know Not Why God's Wondrous Grace", "Father Almighty, Grant Us Now" and "Lord, Speak to Me".

Mrs. Earl Millhorns, organist, has announced the following as her numbers: Prelude, "In the Cleft of the Rock" by Clarke; Offertory, "Lento Naestoso" by James and Postlude "Pontificale" by Higgins.

The young people and adults will assemble in their Sunday School classes at 10 a. m.

The children, directed by Mrs. W. C. Shasteen, will meet at 9 a. m. for Sunday School and at 10 a. m. for Worship. Nursery care is provided.

The young people will meet at 6 p. m. for a catechism class. Adults will meet at 7 p. m. for a study class.

First E.U.B.

"Men's Day" will be observed Sunday in First Evangelical United Brethren Church when the laymen conduct the 9:30 a. m. unified worship service. Mrs. Verneal Thomas, organist, and Miss Lucile Kirkwood, pianist, will open the service with a prelude, "The Beautiful City," by Wilson.

Robert Sweigart will give the call to worship and Richard Beadle will offer a prayer. The congregation will sing hymns entitled: "Our Best" and "Have Thine Own Way, Lord." These are the products of man's labor—and God's. From the moment the seedlings were placed in the warm earth, they have been under constant care.

First came the rain and the sun—and then the ceaseless work of fertilizing, cultivating, and spraying. Last, came harvest time, when the proud growers gathered the rewards of their labor.

Only by such diligence can we hope for a truly bountiful crop. God has given the refreshing rain and warm sunshine, but He expects us to do our part.

And so it is with the care and cultivation of our spiritual lives. Man is endowed with many talents and qualities, but unless he tends and nurtures these gifts, they will not increase and grow.

Harvest time in the life of every person is at maturity, when men are at the peak of their usefulness and wisdom. By attending the services of the Church and by studying the Scriptures, we will realize greater happiness and contentment here on earth—and will be preparing ourselves for the RICH HARVEST of a life hereafter.

Worship Every Week ---

Nazarenes To Hear Cuban Missionary

REV. S. L. HENDRIX

The Rev. Spurgeon L. Hendrix, whose work as a Nazarene educator and missionary in Cuba has been suspended by the political unrest there, is on furlough in the United States, doing deputation work among churches of the denomination.

The Rev. Hendrix will speak at the local Church of the Nazarene during the 7:30 p. m. service Sunday.

The Nazarene Missionary was sent to Cuba in August, 1956, as a superintendent of the field and to direct a Bible School.

Previously he had served for 15 years as a teacher and missionary in Argentina for the Church of the Nazarene.

Rev. Hendrix will describe the island nation and its people and tell of the church program there. He will show slides and motion pictures.

The Rev. R. Dale Fruehling, pastor of the church, has extended a welcome to the public to hear Rev. Hendrix's address.

Church of the Nazarene

Worship Service in the Church of the Nazarene will begin at 10:30 a. m. Those serving in the armed forces from the local congregation will be honored.

The adult choir will sing "Battle Hymn of the Republic" directed by Mrs. R. Dale Fruehling. The pastor will bring the message.

Superintendent Dawson Park will open the Sunday school hour at 9:30 a. m. Mrs. Daryl Thompson will conduct the children's assemblies. The Sunday school offering of the first Sunday of each month goes into the building fund.

The Junior Society and the Young People's Society will meet at 6:30 p. m. The topic for the Young People's meeting will be "What Makes A Successful Marriage?"

In the 7:30 p. m. evangelistic service, the Rev. Spurgeon Hendrix will be guest speaker. The Rev. Hendrix, a missionary to Cuba, recently has been called to the States. His message and pictures of Christian work in Cuba will tell of the Communist situation there as well as the missionary endeavor of the Church of the Nazarene.

Gospel Center

Worship Service will begin at 10:30 a. m. in the Circleville Gospel Center. The Rev. Harley Bennett, pastor of the Church of Christ in Christian Union, Cleveland Avenue, Columbus, will bring the morning message.

Christian Science Lecture Scheduled

Mankind's unlimited possibilities will be emphasized in a lecture on Christian Science to be given Saturday in Columbus by Wilson M.
Riley of Kansas City, Missouri.

Open to the public without charge, the lecture will be sponsored by the members of Second Church of Christ, Scientist.

Mr. Riley will speak at 8 p. m. in Second Church, 871 N. Park St.
on the subject "Christian Science:
God's Ever — Present Kingdom Revealed."

Now on extended tour as a member of The Christian Science Board of Lecturers, Mr. Riley is a former member of the Christian Science Committee on Publication for the State of Missouri.

A native of Kansas City, he received his education at the Univer-

Ashville Lutheran Churches Set for Open House Events

REV. HARRY BOYER

The First English and St. Paul
Lutheran Churches of the Ashville
"community are set to observe
"Lutheran Open House" starting
Sunday and ending Thursday.

Guest missioner for St. Paul will be Rev. Harry Boyer of St.
Matthew Lutheran Church in Medina. First English guest missioner will be the Rev. Robert
T. Reiss of Faith Lutheran Church in Mt. Vernon.

Rev. Boyer was born on the Gilbert Humble farm, Walnut Creek
Pike near Brinker's Corner on Sept. 24, 1908. He was baptized by Pastor R. G. Humble of St. Paul Ev.
Lutheran Church and then attended first grade in Ashville.

Later the Boyers moved to the Howard Noecker farm and then to the old Glick Homestead and attended school in that area until moving to the Sunnyside School District, Circleville Township, where he finished the 8th grade in the old one-room red brick schoolhouse, passed the Boxwell Examination and then the family moved to E. Union St. in Circleville.

PASTOR BOYER was then confirmed in Trinity Lutheran Church,
Circleville, by the sainted Dr. J. G.
Troutman. He was graduated from Circleville High in 1927 and entered Capital University the following Fall. He received a BA Degree from Capital University and then entered Seminary, graduating in 1934 with a BD Degree and his Theological Diploma as a member of the Lutheran Ministry.

On October 13, 1932, he married
Miss Marian France, his High School classmate. They were married in St. Paul Lutheran Church,
Lancaster, by Rev. Edwin Prange.

Pastor Boyer then accepted a call to Hope Lutheran Church, Columbus, and was ordained and installed as Pastor of that church on November 25, 1934, by Dr. H. C.
Leupold of Capital University Seminary. He served Hope Lutheran Church until November, 1943, and in 1944 in January, he was installed as Pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, Jackson Center, Ohio. He served there until June 1, 1953, when he accepted the call to Medina where he has served since.

The Boyers have two sons,
both graduates of Capital University and both have been in service.

Tom is Boy Scout Executive of the Mohawk District, Columbus.
He and his wife have a daughter,
live in southeast Columbus and belong to Redeemer Lutheran Church. Mark is married also and is a High School English teacher in the Medina Schools.

Pastor Boyer celebrated 25
years in the Ministry November 22, 1959, and his Congregation surprised him by having Dr. H. C.
Leupold as the Guest Pastor that day.

PASTOR REISS was born in New
Philadelphia, and was reared in Canton and North Canton. He was graduated from Capital University,
Columbus, in 1950, with a Bachelor of Arts degree, and from the Lutheran Theological Seminary,
Columbus in 1954, with a Bachelor of Divinity degree.

seminary, he was commissioned in the United States Navy and served as Chaplain aboard the USS General G. M. Randall for 25 months. His tour of duty included service in Korea, Japan, the Panama Canal Zone, England,
Germany, North Africa and other
Northern Mediterranean ports.

In August 1956, he was appointed pastor of the Good Shepherd
Lutheran Church, Bexley. In 1960,
Pastor Reiss accepted a call to
Faith Lutheran Church, Mount Vernon, and is still serving that parish. He is married and has three sons.

Lutheran Open House is being held in forty congregations of The American Lutheran Church and
the Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod in the Columbus area. Friends of the congregation have been invited to any of the special evening services which are being held at 8 p. m. Sunday through Thursday. Guest pastors have been called from as far away as Detroit, Minneapolis, St. Louis, and Richmond, Va.

The annual Calvary EUB Fath-

The meetings will be conducted each evening except Saturday at 7:30 p. m.

Rev. Elrod has selected "Why
I Believe in God" as the title for the Sunday morning worship service and "Why I Believe in Jesus Christ" as the topic of the 7:30
p. m. sermon.

Sunday School will begin at 9:30
a. m. and the worship service,
which will feature special music
by the junior and youth choirs, at 10:45 a. m.

Christmastide Celebrations In Schools Get New Study

NEW YORK (AP)—In his professional capacity Allyn P. Robinson has experienced less peace
on earth and good will toward men at Christmas time than at any other season. The situation, he said, likely will get worse before it improves.

To hasten its improvement Robinson recently directed a study
for the National Conference of Christians and Jews which resulted this week in a 10-page, envelope-size pamphlet titled "If Christmas Brings Conflict."

The pamphlet should prove valuable to communities and neighborhoods threatened with a problem which Robinson said is growing more widespread each year:
disputes over Christmas celebrations in public schools.

"Nearly every one of these conflicts could be avoided, along with the bitterness they bring," Robinson said.

"Usually all it requires is communication, and some degree of compromise. But the communication has to be in advance—before the problem becomes an immediate issue and emotions are high.
And any compromise is not with principles, but with reality."

The NCCJ pamphlet lists 11
steps school superintendents or others who foresee such a conflict should take, plus ground rules both sides should agree on

before trying to resolve it.
The pamphlet admonishes participants to assume the good will
of the other side, to take the time
to define the problem accurately, to clear the air of rumors, discuss the problem fully, rather than beginning with solutions, and to make sure clergy and laymen
of all faiths participate as well as school officials. It also gives practical methods of accomplishing each step.

"Things look a good deal different when men are face to face," said Robinson, "than when each is shouting at some adversary he doesn't even know."

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

over Ohio Thursday night. Rain moved through Indiana to the Western Ohio border by dawn.

Early morning temperatures were unseasonably warm, with readings as high as 72 at Chesapeake and Cincinnati. Columbus had a low of 64, while Cleveland reported 67 and Dayton 70.

It will be windy and mild today with thickening cloudiness. Showers will move into the western counties this morning and spread rapidly eastward across the state.

A cold front in Illinois this morning was forecast to sweep through the state by tonight, shifting winds to northwesterly and dropping emperatures 40-50 degrees below today morning.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO
—Temperatures will average eight to twelve degrees below normal.

Ashville Lutheran Churches Set for Open House Events

REV. HARRY BOYER

The First English and St. Paul
Lutheran Churches of the Ashville
community are set to observe
"Lutheran Open House" starting
Sunday and ending Thursday.

Guest missionary for St. Paul
will be Rev. Harry Boyer of St.
Matthew Lutheran Church in
Medina. First English guest mis-
sioner will be the Rev. Robert
T. Reiss of Faith Lutheran
Church in Mt. Vernon.

Rev. Boyer was born on the Gilbert Humble farm, Walnut Creek
Pike near Brinker's Corner on Sept. 14, 1908. He was baptized by Pastor Ringle of St. Paul Ev.
Lutheran Church and then attended first grade in Ashville.

Later the Boyers moved to the Howard Noecker farm and then to the old Gilk Homestead and attended school in that area until moving to the Sunnyside School District, Circleville Township, where he finished the 8th grade in the old one-room red brick schoolhouse, passed the Boxwell Examination and then the family moved to E. Union St. in Circleville.

PASTOR BOYER was then confirmed in Trinity Lutheran Church,
Circleville, by the sainted Dr. J. G.
Troutman. He was graduated from Circleville High in 1927 and entered Capital University the following fall. He received a BA Degree from Capital University and then entered Seminary, gradu-

PASTOR ROBERT REISS

ating in 1934 with a BD Degree and his Theological Diploma as a member of the Lutheran Ministry.

On October 13, 1932, he married
Miss Marian France, his High School classmate. They were married in St. Paul Lutheran Church,
Lancaster, by Rev. Edwin Prange.

Pastor Boyer then accepted a
call to Hope Lutheran Church, Columbus, and was ordained and installed as Pastor of that church on November 25, 1934, by Dr. H.
C. Leopold of Capital University
Seminary. He served Hope Lutheran Church until November, 1943,
and in 1944 in January, he was installed as Pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, Jackson Center, Ohio.
He served there until June 1, 1953,
when he accepted the call to Medina where he has served since.

The Boyers have two sons,
both graduates of Capital University and both have been in service.

Tom is Boy Scout Executive of
the Mohawk District, Columbus.
He and his wife have a daughter,
live in southeast Columbus and belong to Redeemer Lutheran Church. Mark is married also and he is a High School English teacher in the Medina Schools.

PASTOR BOYER celebrated 25
years in the Ministry November 22, 1959, and his Congregation surprised him by having Dr. H. C.
Leopold as the Guest Pastor that day.

PASTOR REISS was born in New
Philadelphia, and was reared in Canton and North Canton. He was graduated from Capital University,
Columbus, in 1950, with a Bachelor of Arts degree, and from the Lutheran Theological Seminary,
Columbus in 1954, with a Bachelor
of Divinity degree.

seminary, he was commissioned in
the United States Navy and
USS General G. M. Randall for 25
months. His tour of duty included service in Korea, Japan, the Panama Canal Zone, England,
Germany, North Africa and other
Northern Mediterranean ports.

In August 1958, he was appointed pastor of the Good Shepherd
Lutheran Church, Bexley. In 1960,
Pastor Reiss accepted a call to
Faith Lutheran Church, Mount
Vernon, and is still serving that parish. He is married and has three sons.

Lutheran Open House is being held in forty congregations of the American Lutheran Church and
the Lutheran Church — Missouri
Synod in the Columbus area.
Friends of the congregation have been invited to any of the special evening services which are being held at 8 p. m. Sunday through Thursday. Guest pastors have been called from as far away as Detroit, Minneapolis, St. Louis, and Richmond, Va.

First English Sets Saturday Prayer Vigil

A Prayer Vigil will be held Saturday from 2 p. m. until 10 p. m. in the First English Lutheran Church, Ashville, with members of the parish and community coming to the church sanctuary for fifteen minute periods of prayer. As individuals kneel in the church chancel in prayer they will remember the forthcoming Lutheran Open House, Nov. 5-9, to be held at First English, as well as their prayers for World Peace.

Church Continues Preaching Series

The Church of the Brethren, Logan and Pickaway St., will continue a series of preaching missions, which began Saturday with the celebration of the church's 50th anniversary, through the coming week.

Te Rev. James H. Elrod, Kansas City, Kan., will continue to deliver the sermons. His general theme of the week's messages will be on "Great Affirmations of Faith" based on the Apostle's Creed.

The meetings will be conducted each evening except Saturday at 7:30 p. m.

Rev. Elrod has selected "Why
I Believe in God" as the title for the Sunday morning worship service and "Why I Believe in Jesus Christ" as the topic of the 7:30
p. m. sermon.

Sunday School will begin at 9:30
a. m. and the worship service,
which will feature special music
by the junior and youth choirs, at 10:45 a. m.

Christmastide Celebrations In Schools Get New Study

NEW YORK (AP)—In his professional capacity Allyn P. Robinson has experienced less peace
on earth and good will toward
men at Christmas time than at any other season. The situation,
he said, likely will get worse before it improves.

To hasten its improvement Robinson recently directed a study
for the National Conference of Christians and Jews which resulted this week in a 10-page, envelope-size pamphlet titled "If Christmas Brings Conflict."

The pamphlet should prove valuable to communities and neighborhoods threatened with a problem which Robinson said is growing more widespread each year:
disputes over Christmas celebrations in public schools.

"Nearly every one of these conflicts could be avoided, along with the bitterness they bring," Robinson said.

"Usually all it requires is communication, and some degree of
compromise. But the communication has to be in advance—before the problem becomes an immediate issue and emotions are high.
And any compromise is not with principles, but with reality."

The NCCJ pamphlet lists 11
steps school superintendents or others who foresee such a conflict should take, plus ground
rules both sides should agree on

before trying to resolve it.
The pamphlet admonishes participants to assume the good will
of the other side, to take the time
to define the problem accurately,
to clear the air of rumors, discuss the problem fully rather than beginning with solutions, and
to make sure clergy and laymen
of all faiths participate as well
as school officials. It also gives practical methods of accomplishing each step.

"Things look a good deal different when men are face to face," said Robinson, "than when
each is shouting at some adver-

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

over Ohio Thursday night. Rain
moved through Indiana to the Western Ohio border by dawn.

Early morning temperatures
were unseasonably warm, with readings as high as 72 at Chesapeake and Cincinnati. Columbus had a low of 64, while Cleveland reported 67 and Dayton 70.

It will be windy and mild today
with thickening cloudiness. Showers will move into the western counties this morning and spread
rapidly eastward across the state.

A cold front in Illinois this morning was forecast to sweep through
the state by tonight, shifting winds
to northwesterly and dropping emperatures 40-50 degrees below today morning.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO
—Temperatures will average eight
to twelve degrees below normal.
Normal high 56, normal low 37.
Much colder tonight and Saturday, minor temperature changes thereafter. Precipitation will average about one-half inch in showers ending tonight, but occurring again late Sunday or Monday, and chance of snow flurries Tuesday and Wednesday.

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average seven to nine-degrees below normal. Normal high 53-54, normal low 34-39. Cool throughout period, with lower temperatures early next week. Precipitation will average about four-tenths of an inch as occasional showers or snow flurries Saturday and snow flurries again Sunday and Monday.

Merry-Go-Round Bought On Mans' Credit Card

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—An Oklahoma City, Okla., amusement park owner bought a merry-go-round Wednesday night when White City, a Worcester park, was sold at auction.

Morris G. Woods got the merry-go-round with its hand carved horses for $7,900.

When it came time to pay, he whipped out a credit card and charged it.

3 Radioactive Substances Are Found In Debris from Nuclear Explosions

EDITOR'S NOTE—Three radioactive substances in particular need careful watching as fallout from nuclear testing increases. But at this point, their distribution appears well below the immediate danger level to human health. Last of three articles.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The main bad actor atoms in bomb test fallout are strontium, iodine and cesium.

The Soviet Union's gigantic 50-megaton bomb shot another dose of them into the air, for winds to blow about and for rains and snow to bring drifting down on people around the world.

Is this a cause of serious concern for Americans?

No, at least not yet, says the U. S. Public Health Service which is keeping a supercautious eye on fallout. Experts meeting last week said they did not foresee any need for protective action even if the Soviets went ahead with their huge explosion.

The watch is maintained because fallout atoms are potential hazards, especially if quirks of wind and weather make some localities "hotter" than others.

The test fallout coming from great distance is of possible concern only if it gets inside the body.

The trouble with strontium 90 is that it concentrates in bones, while iodine concentrates in the thyroid gland. Too much of these atoms might cause cancers of the bone or thyroid, or leukemia.

Cesium 137 becomes generally distributed through the body, including sex glands, where it might cause genetic changes.

How much is too much for humans? No one can answer this, because no one is sure how little radiation it takes to cause harmful effects on the human body.

So, to play it safe, international and U. S. experts have set extremely low maximum doses for daily intake by humans.

They think these tiny amounts would be tolerable without harm. They can't prove it. They do know that fallout from tests so far has not gone above these limits.

These limits, as in the case of strontium 90 for example, are at least 100 times less than the amount of strontium required to produce bone cancers in laboratory animals.

Just how much of the bad actor atoms were created by the Soviet monster bombs, and all its current tests, has not been made public. Reason: The Soviets, as well as U. S. bomb testers in the past, have not divulged the make-up of the bombs.

The H-bomb or fusion reaction itself does not create any strontium, cesium, or iodine. These come from the A-bomb or fission reaction in the bomb. And the A-bomb reaction is needed to produce the heat and pressure to make the hydrogen atoms fuse.

A general assumption is that half the energy in an H-bomb comes from fission. This estimate could be far off, if the big Soviet H-bomb was "clean"—that is, deriving much less than half its total energy from fission.

One estimate is that each megaton of fission energy produces 110 pounds of byproduct fission atoms. So a 50-megaton bomb, getting 25 megatons of energy yield from fission, would produce 2,750 pounds of some 200 kinds of radioactive atoms at the outset.

Most of these "die" very quickly and so don't travel far.

But strontium 90 and cesium 137 remain radioactive for many years. It takes about 27 years for half the original amount to disappear. If taken in food, these atoms can remain active in the body, emitting potentially damaging rays, for a long time.

Iodine 131 has a halflife of eight days. Half of it becomes harmless in eight days. In another eight days, only one quarter of the original amount remains.

If milk became contaminated with iodine, keeping it refrigerated for a month would make it safe to drink. Dr. James Terrell of the Public Health Service points out.

From all bomb tests through

1958, the actual amount of strontium 90 in children's bones, on the average, was about 26 times less than the amount deemed to be harmless if it is in bones. All the Soviet tests might double this—and it would still be about 13 times less than the estimated "safe" amount.

Fallout from tests can produce temporary and sometimes big jumps in the amount of radiation, and the types of atoms, in various localities.

As a guide for protection, the Federal Radiation Council has set limits on the daily intake over an entire year, as measured in microcuries of activity.

For strontium 90, this ranges from 200 to 2,000, and for iodine from 100 to 1,000. A microcurie is one millionth of one millionth of a curie, with a curie being equivalent to the radioactivity in one gram (one-twenty eighth of an ounce) of radium.

The Public Health service is keeping a daily watch on radioactivity in the air, water and milk and some foods, to detect any dangerous increases.

If limits are approached or exceeded, then some actions can be taken to protect people.

For milk, switching to canned or powdered milk—which had been on the shelf long enough—or letting fresh milk sit a while, could remove the danger from iodine.

Washing fresh fruits and vegetables carefully could remove fallout atoms.

If certain crops were found to be relatively high in strontium, they could be avoided as human food. Cows could be fed forage which had been stored inside barns or silos, and hence not touched by fallout.

Research promises ultimately some ways of dealing with strontium hazards in food.

What worries many health officials is that many people—out of panic—might give up drinking any milk, or avoid essential foods because they feared it was contaminated with too much radioactivity. That kind of wholesale avoidance of essential foods could do far more harm than infinitesimal amounts of radioactivity which were below the "maximums" now being observed.

mal amounts of radioactivity which were below the "maximums" now being observed. Said the Public Health Service last week: "The radiation caused by the Soviet tests will add to the risks of genetic effects in succeeding generations, and possibly to the risk of health damage to some people in the United States."

8 The Circleville Herald, Fri. November 3, 1961
Circleville, Ohio

"At present radiation levels, and even at somewhat higher levels, the additional risk is slight, and very few people will be affected."

Merry-Go-Round Bought On Mans' Credit Card

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—An Oklahoma City, Okla., amusement park owner bought a merry-go-round Wednesday night when White City, a Worcester park, was sold at auction.

Morris G. Woods got the merry-go-round with its hand carved horses for $7,900.

When it came time to pay, he whipped out a credit card and charged it.

Looks like maybe Laos or South Viet Nam, but it's right in Berlin, a British soldier camouflaged in the Tiergarten near Brandenburg Gate. That's an anti-tank gun, just waiting.

Those Soviet tanks that bristled across the Friedrichstrasse checkpoint are resting under tarpaulins, for now. They are in courtyard of the former German crown prince's palace.

QUIET, FOR NOW—It was a quiet day in frustrating Berlin when these photos were made, but our side announced a new company of U. S. troops would enter West Berlin and East German Reds said no, we no longer have access rights.

Fallout Fears and Facts—

3 Radioactive Substances Are Found In Debris from Nuclear Explosions

EDITOR'S NOTE—Three radioactive substances in particular need careful watching as fallout from nuclear testing increases. But at this point, their distribution appears well below the immediate danger level to human health. Last of three articles.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The main bad actor atoms in bomb test fallout are strontium, iodine and cesium.

The Soviet Union's gigantic 50-megaton bomb shot another dose of them into the air, for winds to blow about and for rains and snow to bring drifting down on people around the world.

Is this a cause of serious concern for Americans?

No, at least not yet, says the U. S. Public Health Service which is keeping a supercautious eye on fallout. Experts meeting last week said they did not foresee any need for protective action even if the Soviets went ahead with their huge explosion. The watch is maintained because fallout atoms are potentially a hazard, especially if quirks of wind and weather make some localities "hotter" than others.

The test fallout coming from great distance is of possible concern only if it gets inside the body.

The trouble with strontium 90 is that it concentrates in bones, while iodine concentrates in the thyroid gland. Too much of these atoms might cause cancers of the bone or thyroid, or leukemia.

Cesium 137 becomes generally distributed through the body, including sex glands, where it might cause genetic changes.

How much is too much for humans? No one can answer this, because no one is sure how little radiation it takes to cause harmful effects on the human body.

So, to play it safe, international U. S. experts have set extremely low maximum doses for daily intake by humans.

They think these tiny amounts

would be tolerable without harm. They can't prove it. They do know that fallout from tests so far has not gone above these limits.

These limits, as in the case of strontium 90 for example, are at least 100 times less than the amount of strontium required to produce bone cancers in laboratory animals.

Just how much of the bad actor atoms were created by the Soviet monster bombs, and all its current tests, has not been made public. Reason: The Soviets, as well as U. S. bomb testers in the past, have not divulged the make-up of the bombs.

The H-bomb or fusion reaction itself does not create any strontium, cesium, or iodine. These come from the A-bomb or fission reaction in the bomb. And the A-bomb reaction is needed to produce the heat and pressure to make the hydrogen atoms fuse.

A general assumption is that half the energy in an H-bomb comes from fission. This estimate could be far off, if the big Soviet H-bomb was "clean"—that is, deriving much less than half its total energy from fission.

One estimate is that each megaton of fission energy produces 100 pounds of byproduct fission atoms. So a 50-megaton bomb, getting 25 megatons of energy yield from fission, would produce 2,500 pounds of some 200 kinds of radioactive atoms at the outset.

Most of these "die" very quickly and so don't travel far.

But strontium 90 and cesium 137 remain radioactive for many years. It takes about 27 years for half the original amount to disappear. If taken in food, these atoms can remain active in the body, emitting potentially damaging rays, for a long time.

Iodine 131 has a half-life of eight days. Half of it becomes harmless in eight days. In another eight days, only one quarter of the original amount remains.

If milk became contaminated with iodine, keeping it refrigerated for a month would make it safe to drink, Dr. James Terill of the Public Health Service points out.

From all bomb tests through

1958, the actual amount of strontium 90 in children's bones, on the average, was about 26 times less than the amount deemed to be harmless if it is in bones. All the Soviet tests might double this—and it would still be about 13 times less than the estimated "safe" amount.

Fallout from tests can produce temporary and sometimes big jumps in the amount of radiation and the types of atoms, in various localities.

As a guide for protection, the Federal Radiation Council has set limits on the daily intake over an entire year, as measured in microcuries of activity.

For strontium 90, this ranges from 200 to 2,000, and for iodine from 100 to 1,000. A microcurie is one millionth of one millionth of a curie, with a curie being equivalent to the radioactivity in one gram (one-twenty eighth of an ounce) of radium.

The Public Health service is keeping a daily watch on radioactivity in the air, water and milk and some foods, to detect any dangerous increases.

If limits are approached or exceeded, then some actions can be taken to protect people.

For milk, switching to canned or powdered milk—which had been on the shelf long enough—or letting fresh milk sit a while, could remove the danger from iodine.

Washing fresh fruits and vegetables carefully could remove fallout atoms.

If certain crops were found to be relatively high in strontium, they could be avoided as human food. Cows could be fed forage which had been stored inside barns or silos, and hence not touched by fallout.

Research promises ultimately some ways of dealing with strontium hazards in food.

What worries many health officials is that many people—out of panic—might give up drinking any milk, or avoid essential foods because they feared it was contaminated with too much radioactivity. That kind of wholesale avoidance of essential foods could do far more harm than infinitesimal amounts of radioactivity which were below the "maximums" now being observed.

mal amounts of radioactivity which were below the "maximums" now being observed.

Said the Public Health Service last week: "The radiation caused by the Soviet tests will add to the risks of genetic effects in succeeding generations, and possibly to the risk of health damage to some people in the United States."

and even at somewhat higher levels, the additional risk is slight, and very few people will be affected."

Profit-Sharing Contract Signed

CLEVELAND (AP)—The city's first profit sharing labor contract was signed Wednesday by the Fazio Stop-N-Shop supermarkets and 26 bakers of the AFL-CIO American Bakery and Confectionary Workers Local 219.

The bakers at the four supermarkets will be given 5 per cent as a bonus at the end of each three months, based on baked goods sold. The two-year contract also provides for a raise of eight cents an hour, three weeks vacation after five years and an additional one cent hourly on each of the health and welfare, pension and night differential plans.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harry Truman made a career—all the way up to the presidency—of being a Democrat and banging the Republicans. At 77 he's still at it, full of pep and partisanship.

The one-sidedness gets monotonous, as it does with any politician. But he has an aggressive directness and terseness that make Presidents Kennedy and Eisenhower look as cautious as Calvin Coolidge beside him.

At the National Press Club Thursday he was in typical form although he got to bed late the night before as Kennedy's guest at the White House. He said nothing that could even obliquely be considered criticism of Kennedy except for this:

Asked how often he thought a president should hold news conferences, Truman said once a week. In the 1960 campaign Kennedy talked of once-a-week conferences if elected. But, now that he's President, weeks go by without one.

Otherwise, Truman had nothing but praise for Kennedy's administration, nothing but blame for Eisenhower's, although he never mentioned Eisenhower by name. The split which began between

Truman and Eisenhower in the 1952 campaign is still there and, judging from Truman's performance Thursday, he won't be the first to try to heal it. At the same time, Truman and President Hoover are friends.

Truman has mellowed, but only a little. He had a kind word for the Republican-run 80th Congress which, in the 1948 campaign, he called the "do-nothing" Congress. "Some of the most significant foreign policy legislation in our history"—like aid for Greece and Turkey and the Marshall Plan—but he still blamed it for being "do-nothing" on problems at home.

It was no accident he stressed the significance of the aid for Greece and Turkey — when the Communists were breathing down their necks—or the Marshall Plan whose economic help got shattered Europe back on its feet.

It's something to be self-conscious about. He knows his place in history—and his rank among the presidents—hinges on his foreign record: What he did when the cold war with Russia began and what he did when it turned frigid.

His major foreign decisions—besides the two just mentioned—were putting this country into military alliance with Western Europe, setting up bases around the world of communism to contain it, and going into Korea.

Truman, through these actions, laid down the foreign policy which Eisenhower and Kennedy followed without any major change or addition.

But if Eisenhower and Kennedy were his heirs in foreign policy they were not in dealings at home.

The most obvious difference is in the way the three men handled Congress.

Truman was far more aggressive than the other two in fighting for legislation he thought was needed. And he made the presidency a lot more personal in the sense of fighting openly with individuals whose policies or tactics he had no use for.

Best examples: his open and prolonged quarrels with Sens. Robert Taft and Joseph McCarthy. Eisenhower avoided personal disputes completely. Kennedy has so far.

Whether Truman's method was better is debatable. Despite Truman's antagonism, McCarthy got

Lebanon Poll Dispute Faces State Official

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—With the election only five days away, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown must decide whether Michael Einhorn is qualified to be a candidate for City Council in nearby Franklin.

The Warren County Election Board after a stormy session Wednesday night split 2-2 on the question of Einhorn's voting rights in Franklin. Republicans voted for Einhorn and Democrats against him.

Prosecutor Stanley Klob challenged Einhorn's rights as a candidate in the county.

Einhorn testified he maintains two residences—an apartment in Franklin where he operates a real estate business, and a home in Amberly Village near Cincinnati where his wife and son live.

His attorney, Fred Jones, contended a 1952 Ohio Supreme Court decision ruled a man may have more than one residence although only one domicile. Einhorn contended his domicile is in Amberly Village, yet his voting residence is in Franklin.

'Advise and Consent' Author To Appear in His Own Movie

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Meet Allen Drury, senator-at-large.

The author is here to oversee filming of his novel, "Advise and Consent." Never one to pass up a publicity possibility, producer-director Otto Preminger has dragged Drury to play a senator in the film. What state does he represent?

"Senators without speaking parts aren't so designated," said Drury. "I don't know what I would choose. I was born in Texas, grew up in California, reside in Maryland and my parents live in Florida."

So we'll designate him at-large, which is a pretty good description of this towering, quiet-spoken but self-assured man. The Drury saga is dear to the heart of every newspaperman. He is one reporter who made it.

After 15 years of covering the U.S. Senate, he turned his knowledge into a hard-running best seller, with all the condensation, book club, play and movie rights and other harvests that writers dream about.

"Yes, a lot of money has come in," he admitted, "but it also has gone right out — to the Internal Revenue Service. The income tax laws are not very good for authors and other people who make a lot of money in one year."

What was the reaction of the real-life senators to his book, which deals frankly with the process of choosing a secretary of state?

"I think most of them liked it," said Drury. "The only one who

Bank of England Again Cuts Rate

LONDON (AP)—The Bank of England rate, which determines the pattern for interest on loans in the sterling bloc, was cut today by half a point—from 6½ to 6 per cent.

The rate had been reduced from 7 per cent on Oct. 5. It was raised from 5 per cent in July when Selwyn Lloyd, chancellor of the exchequer, imposed stringent money policies on Britain in an effort to stem inflation and an increasingly adverse balance of international payments.

The new cut in the bank rate was believed due partly to a feeling of obligation to the United States to end the flow of American gold to this country where it has taken advantage of the high interest rate on short-term loans.

dividuals whose policies or tactics he had no use for.

Best examples: his open and prolonged quarrels with Sens. Robert Taft and Joseph McCarthy. Eisenhower avoided personal disputes completely. Kennedy has so far.

boldest and stronger.

It was the Eisenhower administration, although Eisenhower himself avoided a head-on clash, which laid the foundation for the destruction of the Wisconsin senator with the Army-McCarthy hearings.

But one thing is for sure: The White House under Truman was a far more lively and colorful place than it has ever been under Eisenhower or Kennedy. Truman is a man who met life head-on, grabbed it, shook it, and loved every minute of it.

Anyone who doubts his love of life should have heard him Thursday. He said he hopes he lives to be 100. And then, in the only somber note of the day, he said: "I don't think I'll make it."

Ohio Democrat Chairman Raps GOP Solon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio Republican Congressman William H. Ayres is "playing the Communists' game for them" in criticizing the callup of military reservists, Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey charged Wednesday.

Ayres, who has termed the call-up of 120,000 reservists a "guinea pig operation" to update military records, retorted that Bailey was making "fuzzy charges." The Akron Republican has said that men are being called to active duty without regard to personal hardship or the fact that they had developed critically needed civilian skills.

The Pentagon has denied Ayres' charges, and a spokesman said the military is leaning over backward to decide in the favor of individuals in cases where reservists called to duty have sought deferment.

Bailey said Ayres "is doing his best to create the division and confusion which the Communists hope for during this time of crisis . . . to undermine the confidence and unity of our people in a time of peril . . ."

Profit-Sharing Contract Signed

CLEVELAND (AP)—The city's first profit sharing labor contract was signed Wednesday by the Fazio Stop-N-Shop supermarkets and 26 bakers of the AFL-CIO American Bakery and Confectionary Workers Local 219.

The bakers at the four supermarkets will be given 5 per cent as a bonus at the end of each three months, based on baked goods sold. The two-year contract also provides for a raise of eight cents an hour, three weeks vacation after five years and an additional one cent hourly on each of the health and welfare, pension and night differential plans.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harry Truman made a career—all the way up to the presidency—of being a Democrat and banging the Republicans. At 77 he's still at it, full of pep and partisanship.

The one-sidedness gets monotonous, as it does with any politician. But he has an aggressive directness and terseness that make Presidents Kennedy and Eisenhower look as cautious as Calvin Coolidge beside him.

At the National Press Club Thursday he was in typical form although he got to bed late the night before as Kennedy's guest at the White House. He said nothing that could even obliquely be considered criticism of Kennedy except for this:

Asked how often he thought a president should hold news conferences, Truman said once a week. In the 1960 campaign Kennedy talked of once-a-week conferences if elected. But, now that he's President, weeks go by without one.

Otherwise, Truman had nothing but praise for Kennedy's administration, nothing but blame for Eisenhower's, although he never mentioned Eisenhower by name.

The split which began between

Truman and Eisenhower in the 1952 campaign is still there and, judging from Truman's performance Thursday, he won't be the first to try to heal it. At the same time, Truman and President Hoover are friends.

Truman has mellowed, but only a little. He had a kind word for the Republican-run 80th Congress which, in the 1948 campaign, he called the "do-nothing" Congress.

"Some of the most significant foreign policy legislation in our history"—like aid for Greece and Turkey and the Marshall Plan—but he still blamed it for being "do-nothing" on problems at home.

It was no accident he stressed the significance of the aid for Greece and Turkey—when the Communists were breathing down their necks—or the Marshall Plan whose economic help got shattered Europe back on its feet.

It's something to be self-conscious about.

He knows his place in history—and his rank among the presidents—hinges on his foreign record: What he did when the cold war with Russia began and what he did when it turned frigid.

His major foreign decisions—besides the two just mentioned—were putting this country into military alliance with Western Europe, setting up bases around the world of communism to contain it, and going into Korea.

Truman, through these actions, laid down the foreign policy which Eisenhower and Kennedy followed without any major change or addition.

The most obvious difference is in the way the three men handled Congress.

Truman was far more aggressive than the other two in fighting for legislation he thought was needed. And he made the presidency a lot more personal in the sense of fighting openly with in-

Lebanon Poll Dispute Faces State Official

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—With the election only five days away, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown must decide whether Michael Einhorn is qualified to be a candidate for City Council in nearby Franklin.

The Warren County Election Board after a stormy session Wednesday night split 2-2 on the question of Einhorn's voting rights in Franklin. Republicans voted for Einhorn and Democrats against him.

Prosecutor Stanley Klob challenged Einhorn's rights as a candidate in the county.

His attorney, Fred Jones, contended a 1952 Ohio Supreme Court decision ruled a man may have more than residence although only one domicile. Einhorn contended his domicile is in Amberly Village, yet his voting residence is in Franklin.

'Advise and Consent' Author To Appear in His Own Movie

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Meet Allen Drury, senator-at-large.

The author is here to oversee filming of his novel, "Advise and Consent." Never one to pass up a publicity possibility, producer-director Otto Preminger has dragged Drury to play a senator in the film. What state does he represent?

"Senators without speaking parts aren't so designated," said Drury. "I don't know what I would choose. I was born in Texas, grew up in California, reside in Maryland and my parents live in Florida."

So we'll designate him at-large, which is a pretty good description of this towering, quiet-spoken but self-assured man. The Drury saga is dear to the heart of every newspaperman. He is one reporter who made it.

After 15 years of covering the U.S. Senate, he turned his knowledge into a hard-running best seller, with all the condensation, book club, play and movie rights and other harvests that writers dream about.

"Yes, a lot of money has come in," he admitted, "but it also has gone right out — to the Internal Revenue Service. The income tax laws are not very good for authors and other people who make a lot of money in one year."

What was the reaction of the real-life senators to his book, which deals frankly with the process of choosing a secretary of state?

"I think most of them liked it," said Drury. "The only one who

Bank of England Again Cuts Rate

LONDON (AP)—The Bank of England rate, which determines the pattern for interest on loans in the sterling bloc, was cut today by half a point—from 6½ to 6 per cent.

The rate had been reduced from 7 per cent on Oct. 5. It was raised from 5 per cent in July when Selwyn Lloyd, chancellor of the exchequer, imposed stringent money policies on Britain in an effort to stem inflation and an increasingly adverse balance of international payments.

The new cut in the bank rate was believed due partly to a feeling of obligation to the United States to end the flow of American gold to this country where it has taken advantage of the high interest rate on short-term loans.

By James Marlow

dividuals whose policies or tactics he had no use for.

Best examples: his open and prolonged quarrels with Sens. Robert Taft and Joseph McCarthy. Eisenhower avoided personal disputes completely. Kennedy has so far.

Whether Truman's method was better is debatable. Despite Truman's antagonism, McCarthy got bolder and stronger.

It was the Eisenhower administration, although Eisenhower himself avoided a head-on clash, which laid the foundation for the destruction of the Wisconsin senator with the Army-McCarthy hearings.

But one thing is for sure: The White House under Truman was a far more lively and colorful place than it has ever been under Eisenhower or Kennedy. Truman is a man who met life head-on, grabbed it, shook it, and loved every minute of it.

Anyone who doubts his love of life should have heard him Thursday. He said he hopes he lives to be 100. And then, in the only somber note of the day, he said: "I don't think I'll make it."

Cage Play to Open Tonight

With football not yet out of the area high school sports picture, seven area scholastic basketball teams make their debuts tonight in the first action of the 1961-62 cage season.

After tonight's curtain-raiser, fans can settle back and enjoy a game-packed hoop year, for local squads will do battle in more than 200 tilts before state tournament time rolls around at the end of February.

Sharing tonight's spotlight in the initial round of play are Monroe (at Darby), Williamsport (at Kingston), Walnut (at Centralia) and Jackson at home against Clarksburg.

Those schools competing on the gridiron will not open cage play until the last of this month. The non-football schools, starting tonight, will be clashing on Tuesdays, Fridays and Saturdays for the next four months.

37 Fatalities Are Linked to Football Play

LOS ANGELES (AP) — There have been 37 fatal injuries this season that can be traced to football. Nineteen were directly related, 18 indirectly, says Dr. Floyd Eastwood of Los Angeles State College.

Dr. Eastwood is chairman of the fatality survey committee of the American Football Coaches' Association.

His annual mid-season report, issued Thursday night, said that inadequate pre-season physical examinations, especially in the area of the heart, were partly to blame for the marked increase in deaths. For the same period last year there were only 15 fatalities, 12 direct and three indirect.

Dr. Eastwood said there is cause for added concern because of the increase from one to 12 in indirect deaths among high school athletes.

"The committee's findings indicate that many of this number may be attributable to inadequate pre-practice season physical examinations, especially of the heart," said Dr. Eastwood.

Of the total reported so far this season, five deaths have occurred in sandlot or unsupervised play; two in semi-professional play; 23 in high school; five in college, and two among officials.

British Clobber American Boxers

LONDON (AP) — "We used to lead the world in boxing," said Coach Bert Taylor today after his American amateur fighters suffered a humiliating 10-0 defeat to Britain in the opener of a European tour.

"Perhaps last night's result will make some people at home think a little more seriously about the sport."

The British rout of a US team that included five reigning AAU champions left Taylor, as well as his unhappy fighters, more than a bit shaken.

Only four of the 10 matches went the scheduled three-round distance. When it was over, one US fighter was in a hospital, two others had concussions and one of these also needed several stitches to close a bad cut inside his mouth.

U.S. Judge Writes Television Script
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Don Mack, who boasted on his weekly television show here two weeks ago that he shot two canvasback ducks, has been ordered to read on next Tuesday's show the federal law prohibiting the shooting of waterfowl protected by federal laws.

"Can I tell the people you ordered me to read the law?" Mack asked US District Court Judge Mell G. Underwood Thursday. "Yes," said Underwood, "and you may also tell them I fined you $250 for each duck, too."

Mack—whose TV show features the outdoors, hunting and fishing—had an explanation for shooting the canvasbacks: "I thought they were mallards."

Tiny Tigers Lose Final Grid Game

Circleville's junior high Tiny Tigers ended their football campaign on an unhappy note last night, losing 14-0 to Lancaster Thomas Ewing.

The loss was the juniors' third straight and gave them a 3-3 record for the season. The Tiny Tigers had defeated Ewing 26-0 in the season's opener and took two wins from Washington C. H. before losing twice to Lancaster Sherman.

In yesterday's tilt the locals battled Ewing to a standoff in the middle portion of the game, but the Lancaster unit used single touchdowns early and late in the game to gain the win. Don Syford trotted six yards in the first quarter to boost Ewing to a 6-0 lead.

The extra points try misfired and a stubborn Circleville defense held the visitors to their own territory through the second quarter. In the third stanza the squads traded possession of the ball, neither able to muster a scoring threat.

SYFORD proved TD poison for the Tigers with 2:34 to go in the scrap, romping 75 yards for the tally to push Ewing to a 12-0 margin. Paul Kenerick ran for the points to complete the scoring.

Spartans See No Chance of Ole Miss Test

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — "As long as Southern schools won't schedule teams with Negro football players, you'll never know who is No. 1," said Michigan State Athletic Director Biggie Munn.

Munn spoke in answer to a complaint from a student spokesman for Mississippi that "Ole Miss" should be rated as the No. 1 team in The Associated Press poll.

MSU is tops and Mississippi second in the current rating. Both teams risk their standings Saturday—Michigan State against Minnesota and Mississippi against Louisiana State University.

Jimmie Robertson, editor of the Mississippi student newspaper at Oxford, Miss., wrote to the MSU student newspaper protesting Ole Miss' No. 2 rating and the "archaic thinking" on race relations which prevents the two teams from playing each other.

He said Mississippi would like to meet Michigan State but cannot "because we can't play any teams who have Negro players."

"If you can't meet them, you can't beat them," said Munn. Michigan State has always refused to compete against any school that will not accept Negro athletes, Munn said.

"We will send our athletes against any school. But it has to be regardless of race, creed or color. Michigan State always has refused to compete with anyone who would not accept all our athletes—and this goes for housing or eating or transportation or anything else," Munn declared.

Mrs. Nelson says the male turkey adopted the small pumpkin after a larger pumpkin had been picked from the vine. He hovered over it, day and night, for two weeks.

OSU Ground Attack Pitted Against Iowa's Air Assault

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It's Ohio State's grind-it-out ground attack against Iowa's air assault Saturday as two of the Top Ten titans tangle here before 83,000 fans.

All-America fullback Bob Ferguson, spearhead of the Buckeye "three yards and a cloud of dust" offense, will bear the brunt of the Ohio rushing, Iowa probably will counter with the strong right arm of quarterback Matt Szykowny who has completed 35 of 56 passes for 381 yards and four touchdowns.

And the Buckeye defense, after holding four foes to 10 points, gave up 21 to Wisconsin last week as the Badger air arm completed 13 of 23 for 219 yards and two scores.

Iowa has all the weapons to exploit any holes in Ohio's passing defense, such as showed up against Wisconsin.

The fifth-ranked Bucks have averaged 4.3 yards for each ground play, and 6.5 yards for pass—but the Hawkeyes have the edge in both departments with a 4.5 mark rushing and 7.2 over-head.

The big difference is that the Bucks are reluctant to relinquish the ball. They've run off 362 plays while holding the foe to 255—an edge of more than 21 plays per game. Iowa has run 331 to 291 for the opposition.

Ohio has turned the ball over on punts, fumbles and intercepted passes only 24 times, while Iowa has surrendered it the same way 37 times.

The Hawkeyes, shut out for the first time in 79 games when they dropped a 9-0 verdict last Saturday on Purdue's slick and slimy field, will be higher than an astronaut as they try to get back into the winning column. Ohio, scenting a share of the Big Ten crown and a possible Rose Bowl bid, will be cheered on by a capacity homecoming crowd.

Iowa has won the last two tilts with the Buckeyes, 16-7 in 1959 and 35-12 last year. Ohio Coach Woody Hayes has never lost three in a

In nine games with the Hawkeyes, Hayes has a 5-4 record—but has outscored Iowa only 161 to 151 over that stretch. A hole in Saturday's pass defense could change all that.

In the Big Ten race the Bucks are 3-0 and the Hawkeyes 2-1. If Iowa wins this one, the chances are both are out of the title chase. An Ohio win would keep the Bucks on the championship road, with Indiana and Michigan still to be met. Overall the Ohioans are 4-0-1, Iowa 4-1-0.

Youngsters Lead Almaden Open Test

SAN JOSE Calif. (AP) — Two youngsters led 15 par busters into the second round of the $10,000 Almaden Open Golf Tournament today.

Larry Mowry and Johnny Lotz each shot 5-under-par 67s Thursday.

Mowry, 24, is assistant pro at Bonita, Calif. Lotz, 21, one of three amateurs among the sub-par belters, is a San Jose State College student.

Defending champ Charlie Sifford of Los Angeles was one of five pros scoring 69, sharing third spot with Jim Ferrier, Jack O'Keefe, Chico Miartuz and Bob McCallister.

High Population of Grouse Found in Ohio's Hill Country

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ohio's ruffed grouse hunting season which opened Oct. 16 and continues through Feb. 24, is the most extended hunting season on these birds of any state in the country.

Spring surveys indicated a high population of grouse throughout the unglaciated hill country in the eastern and southeastern areas.

Field men of the division of wildlife find the birds numerous in the brush creek wildlife area, Jefferson County; Shade River State Forest, Meigs County; Wayne National Forest, Washington County, and Racoon and Zaleski state forests, Vinton County.

Due to the large amount of mature timber the count on Waterloo area, Athens County, had a lower count of grouse.

Numerous broods of young grouse were noted in Pike State Forest, Pike County, in late summer by Bob Ehrlich of Bainbridge. Ehrlich guides many Cincinnati sportsmen who hunt regularly for these "woodland ghosts."

Grouse are natives of the vast forests and much sought after by Buckeye sportsmen despite the rough terrain on which they are found. Ideal cover for these game birds consists of greenbriar and bitternut and other tangles, undergrowth and brush, and stands of pine. This makes for rugged hunting for both men and dogs.

Experienced grouse hunters find the poiting breed dogs work best although the Beagle hound, trained for this purpose, is becoming popular. Modified and open check shotguns from 20-gauge to 12-gauge firing No 7½ shot, are the favorites.

MARY V. GUENTHER → CANDIDATE FOR CIRCLEVILLE CITY SCHOOL DISTRICT BOARD

Dear Friends,

Yes, I am Mary V. Guenther (Mrs. "Bus" Palm Guenther), a candidate for your Circleville School District School Board; — and I ask for your vote when you go to the polls on November 7.

I ask for your vote, not for the honor of the office, but because I feel I can be of service to you parents to help improve our schools. I am confident you are interested in school board members who by their deeds merit your confidence and support. I am also confident I have the courage to act in and support the interests of the people I would represent.

I want qualified people to teach our children and handle the school affairs. I am sure you also are interested in the same things.

You choose your friends and business associates by their honesty, ability, experience and accuracy in handling their affairs. I hope you will judge me by these same standards.

You know me as an interested parent and an active participant in school and community affairs.

Remember, your support will be appreciated.

Vote for Mary V. Guenther.

Yours for better schools,

X MARY V. GUENTHER

Don't forget to vote. I'm counting on your support.

U.S. Judge Writes Television Script

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Don Mack, who boasted on his weekly television show here two weeks ago that he shot two canvasback ducks, has been ordered to read on next Tuesday's show the federal law prohibiting the shooting of waterfowl protected by federal laws.

"Can I tell the people you ordered me to read the law?" Mack asked US District Court Judge Mell G. Underwood Thursday. "Yes," said Underwood. "and you may also tell them I fined you $250 for each duck, too."

Mack—whose TV show features the outdoors, hunting and fishing—had an explanation for shooting the canvasbacks: "I thought they were mallards."

$302,365 Race Slated Saturday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The world's richest horse race—the $302,365 Garden State—shapes up as virtually a match race between Donut King and Crimson Satan at Garden State Park in Camden, N.J. Saturday, but you never can tell.

This golden gallop for 2-year-olds, the race that last year put Carry Back on the road to glory and riches, tops Saturday's thoroughbred racing program and will be televised nationally by Sports Network, Inc., from 4:30 to 5 p.m. Eastern Standard Time.

Donut King, a brown colt by Determine out of Strayed by Bull Dog and owned by Californian Vern Mitchell, is the morning line favorite in the mile and one-sixteenth Garden State Crimson Satan, a chestnut colt by Spy Song-Papila, by Requebro, is the close second choice. He is owned by King Farm.

Gobbler Breeds Confusion

CHIPLEY, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. B. Nelson says she has a terrible confused turkey gobbler.

In the first place, she says, he tried to make like a turkey hen. And in the second, the egg he tried to hatch was a pumpkin.

Mrs. Nelson says the male turkey adopted the small pumpkin after a larger pumpkin had been picked from the vine. He hovered over it, day and night, for two weeks.

Tiny Tigers Lose Final Grid Game

Circleville's junior high Tiny Tigers ended their football campaign on an unhappy note last night, losing 14-0 to Lancaster Thomas Ewing.

The loss was the juniors' third straight and gave them a 3-3 record for the season. The Tiny Tigers had defeated Ewing 26-0 in the season's opener and took two wins from Washington C. H. before losing twice to Lancaster Sherman.

In yesterday's tilt the locals battled Ewing to a standoff in the middle portion of the game, but the Lancaster unit used single touchdowns early and late in the game to gain the win. Don Syford trotted six yards in the first quarter to boost Ewing to a 6-0 lead.

The extra points try misfired and a stubborn Circleville defense held the visitors to their own territory through the second quarter. In the third stanza the squads traded possession of the ball, neither able to muster a scoring threat.

SYFORD proved TD poison for the Tigers with 2:34 to go in the scrap, romping 75 yards for the tally to push Ewing to a 12-0 margin. Paul Kenerick ran for the points to complete the scoring.

Spartans See No Chance of Ole Miss Test

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — "As long as Southern schools won't schedule teams with Negro football players, you'll never know who is No. 1," said Michigan State Athletic Director Biggie Munn.

Munn spoke in answer to a complaint from a student spokesman for Mississippi that "Ole Miss" should be rated as the No. 1 team in The Associated Press poll.

MSU is tops and Mississippi second in the current rating. Both teams risk their standings Saturday—Michigan State against Minnesota and Mississippi against Louisiana State University.

Jimmie Robertson, editor of the Mississippi student newspaper at Oxford, Miss., wrote to the MSU student newspaper protesting "Ole Miss' No. 2 rating and the 'archaic thinking' on race relations which prevents the two teams from playing each other.

He said Mississippi would like to meet Michigan State but cannot "because we can't play any teams who have Negro players."

"If you can't meet them, you can't beat them," said Munn.

Michigan State has always refused to compete against any school that will not accept Negro athletes, Munn said.

"We will send our athletes against any school. But it has to be regardless of race, creed or color. Michigan State always has refused to compete with anyone who would not accept all our athletes—and this goes for housing or eating or transportation or anything else," Munn declared.

OSU Ground Attack Pitted Against Iowa's Air Assault

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It's Ohio State's grind-it-out ground attack against Iowa's air assault Saturday as two of the Top Ten tittans tangle here before 83,000 fans.

All-America fullback Bob Ferguson—spearhead of the Buckeye "three yards and a cloud of dust" offense, will bear the brunt of the Ohio rushing. Iowa probably will counter with the strong right arm of quarterback Matt Szykowny who has completed 35 of 56 passes for 381 yards and four touchdowns.

And the Buckeye defense, after holding four foes to 10 points, gave up 21 to Wisconsin last week as the Badger air arm completed 13 of 23 for 219 yards and two scores. Iowa has all the weapons to exploit any holes in Ohio's passing defense, such as showed up against Wisconsin.

The fifth-ranked Bucks have averaged 4.3 yards for each ground play, and 6.5 yards for pass—but the Hawkeyes have the edge in both departments with a 4.5 mark rushing and 7.2 over-head.

The big difference is that the Bucks are reluctant to relinquish the ball. They've run off 362 plays while holding the foe to 255—an edge of more than 21 plays per game. Iowa has run 331 to 291 for the opposition.

Ohio has turned the ball over on punts, fumbles and intercepted passes only 24 times, while Iowa has surrendered it the same way 37 times.

The Hawkeyes, shut out for the first time in 79 games when they dropped a 9-0 verdict last Saturday on Purdue's slick and slimy field, will be higher than an astronaut as they try to get back into the winning column. Ohio, scenting a share of the Big Ten crown and a possible Rose Bowl bid, will be cheered on by a capacity homecoming crowd.

Iowa has won the last two tilts with the Buckeyes, 16-7 in 1959 and 35-12 last year. Ohio Coach Woody Hayes has never lost three in a

In nine games with the Hawkeyes, Hayes has a 5-4 record—but has outscored Iowa only 161 to 151 over that stretch. A hole in Saturday's pass defense could change all that.

In the Big Ten race the Bucks are 3-0 and the Hawkeyes 2-1. If Iowa wins this one, the chances are both are out of the title chase. An Ohio win would keep the Bucks on the championship road, with Indiana and Michigan still to be met. Overall the Ohioans are 4-0-1, Iowa 4-1-0.

Youngsters Lead Almaden Open Test

SAN JOSE Calif. (AP) — Two youngsters led 15 par busters into the second round of the $10,000 Almaden Open Golf Tournament today.

Larry Mowry and Johnny Lotz each shot 5-under-par 67s Thursday.

Mowry, 24, is assistant pro at Bonita, Calif. Lotz, 21, one of three amateurs among the sub-par belters, is a San Jose State College student.

Defending champ Charlie Sifford of Los Angeles was one of five pros scoring 69, sharing third spot with Jim Ferrier, Jack O'Keefe, Chico Martuz and Bob McCallister.

Ohio has won the last two tilts with the Buckeyes, 16-7 in 1959 and 35-12 last year. Ohio Coach Woody Hayes has never lost three in a

High Population of Grouse Found in Ohio's Hill Country

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ohio's ruffed grouse hunting season which opened Oct. 16 and continues through Feb. 24, is the most extended hunting season on these birds of any state in the country.

Spring surveys indicated a high population of grouse throughout the unglaciated hill country in the eastern and southeastern areas. Field men of the division of wildlife find the birds numerous in the brush creek wildlife area, Jefferson County; Shade River State Forest, Meigs County; Wayne National Forest, Washington County, and Racoon and Zaleski state forests, Vinton County.

Due to the large amount of mature timber the count on Waterloo area, Athens County, had a lower count of grouse.

Numerous broods of young grouse were noted in Pike State Forest, Pike County, in late summer by Bob Ehrling of Bainbridge. Ehrling guides many Cincinnati sportsmen who hunt regularly for these "woodland ghosts." Grouse are natives of the vast forests and much sought after by Buckeye sportsmen despite the rough terrain on which they are found. Ideal cover for these game birds consists of greenbriar and hollers and other tangles, undergrowth and brush, and stands of pine. This makes for rugged hunting for both men and dogs.

Experienced grouse hunters find the poiting breed dogs work best for this purpose, is becoming popular. Modified and open chuck shotguns from 20-gauge to 12-gauge firing No 7½ shot, are the favorites.

Hunting hours for grouse are from daylight to dark with a bag limit of three and six, respectively.

During the first nine months of 1961, trainer Vester R. (Tennessee) Wright had saddled 143 winners, 33 more than W. Hal Bishop.

MARY V. GUENTHER → CANDIDATE FOR CIRCLEVILLE CITY SCHOOL DISTRICT BOARD

Dear Friends,

Yes, I am Mary V. Guenther (Mrs. "Bus" Palm Guenther), a candidate for your Circleville School District School Board; — and I ask for your vote when you go to the polls on November 7.

I ask for your vote, not for the honor of the office, but because I feel I can be of service to you parents to help improve our schools. I am confident you are interested in school board members who by their deeds merit your confidence and support. I am also confident I have the courage to act in and support the interests of the people I would represent.

I want qualified people to teach our children and handle the school affairs. I am sure you also are interested in the same things.

You choose your friends and business associates by their honesty, ability, experience and accuracy in handling their affairs. I hope you will judge me by these same standards.

You know me as an interested parent and an active participant in school and community affairs.

Remember, your support will be appreciated.

Vote for Mary V. Guenther.

Yours for better schools,

X MARY V. GUENTHER

Don't forget to vote. I'm counting on your support.

Saturday Tagged As Decision Day On College Grid

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Before the beginning of the college football season, Nov. 4 was pencilled off as the day of decision—and nothing has changed as the nation's top teams battle each other Saturday in key conference battles that may also have a lot to say about the post-season bowl spots.

Michigan State, the nation's No. 1 team and undefeated in five games, meets once-beaten but mighty Minnesota in a Big Ten battle, while Mississippi, equally as mighty and ranked second nationally takes on its old nemesis Louisiana State in the Southeastern Conference's biggest game of the year.

That is just a sample and to get things under way, resurgent University of Miami (3-3) tackles the Georgia Bulldogs tonight. The Hurricanes at last have soph quarterback George Mira back in top physical shape. He missed two of Miami's losses but came back last week in so good condition to help upset North Carolina 10-0.

The Bulldogs, also 3-3, are a bunch of opportunists. Their three victories have been by the margin of Durwood Pennington's field goal kicking, 17-14 over South Carolina, 10-7 from Mississippi State and 16-15 last week against Kentucky.

Both Michigan State and Mississippi have statistical edges, but it is hard to find solid support for both. The Spartans have a powerful ground offense, ranked fifth nationally, and a defense that has allowed only one touchdown and a field goal, and has shut out its three Big Ten opponents.

Decision Due On Mitchell's Availability

CLEVELAND (AP)—A decision expected today on whether the Army will let halfback Bobby Mitchell play for the Cleveland Browns against Pittsburgh here Sunday could change the odds by which the home club is favored.

Mitchell scored all three touchdowns in the Browns' 30-28 victory at Pittsburgh, and Lou Groza's toe provided the rest of the points on field goals.

The odds-makers have installed Cleveland as 8½ point favorites.

Then he put his club through a long defensive drill Tuesday, Coach Paul Brown noted that halfback Tom Watkins would be needed in spots even if Mitchell is available.

Brown explained:

"We take on a certain number of new plays every week. Then there are variations here and there. We may make some switches in blocking. Tom has been here for the practice sessions and knows what we are doing. If Bobby comes in, it just will be a question of how much he can pick up in a short time."

Their 20-10 upset victory over the San Francisco 49ers has whetted the appetites of the hard-luck Steelers, and in addition to being eager their squad is at full strength.

Lossless Ohio Teams Poised

Trio Is Expected To Continue Streaks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's unbeaten football trio figures to ramble on this weekend as the state's colleges stage a 26-game program.

Baldwin-Wallace, rated second among the country's smaller colleges, puts its 6-0 mark on the block Saturday against Heidelberg's Student Princes, who have a 1-4-1 record. Otterbein's Cardinals, also 6-0, have Ashland's Eagles (3-4) as opponents. And John Carroll (4-0) goes against Wabash, beaten last week by Ohio Wesleyan.

Ohio State, unbeaten but tied once, heads into the danger zone by entertaining wounded Iowa in a Big Ten homecoming scrap in Ohio Stadium.

In the Ohio Conference the big one is in Akron's Rubber Bowl, where the Zippers (4-1) must beat Muskingum (4-0) to stay in the title scrap. They share the lead with Otterbein (5-0) and Wittenberg (4-0). Wittenberg entertains Denison, which has dropped four of its five conference tilts.

Bowling Green, leader of the Mid-American with 4-1, is host to West Texas State in a non-league encounter. In conference games Kent State (1-4) is at Western Michigan (3-1), Toledo (2-3) visits Miami (2-2) and Ohio University (2-1) goes against Marshall (1-3). The non-league competition offers some nifties, including Cincinnati at Tulsa, Dayton at Holy Cross, Louisville at Xavier and North Dakota at Youngstown.

Also on the Saturday slate are Capital at Marietta, Ohio Wesleyan at Wooster, Kenyon at Mount Union, Case Tech at Bethany, Wayne at Western Reserve, St. Joseph at Central State, Defiance at Taylor, Findlay at Anderson, Hiram at Kalamazoo, Oberlin at Susquehanna, Earlham at Wilmington and Manchester at Bluffton.

IT'S THAT TIME AGAIN—Welcoming Denver's first major snowstorm of the season, Joyce Groth (waxing her skis) and Mary Freitag eagerly get ready for their first skiing session at Congress Park. Denver area received six inches.

Ruth's 60th Home Run Ball Is Owned by Proud Georgian

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—The man who caught Babe Ruth's 60th home run ball wanted to trade it for the Babe's bat or glove but his uncle would not let him.

H. D. Siegel is happy today that his uncle was so stubborn.

Siegel was 14 on that eventful day in September, 1927, when Ruth powered one of Tom Zachary's pitches into the right field stand close to the foul line.

Central Press Sports Writer

QUESTIONS

1—Is the Pirates' Don Hoak the "take charge" kind of player?

2—Was Babe Ruth a southpaw or a righthanded pitcher during his hurling days?

3—When the Pirates won the World Series in 1960, it was the first one for them since 1926. True or false?

ANSWERS

1—True.

2—A southpaw.

3—He certainly is.

(Hoak: Bill Maczowski.)
Distributed by Central Press

There was a mad scramble for the ball, and young Siegel came up with it.

"We knew there was something kind of special about it but didn't take it too seriously," Siegel said. "After all, it was just another home run by Babe Ruth."

"After the game my uncle, Harry Valencia, and I went up to the Yankee dressing room where he got all of the Yankees to autograph the ball except Jumpin' Joe Dugan. I don't know how we missed him."

"While we were there, Babe offered me a glove or a bat for the ball. I really wanted that glove. It was a beautiful white one with four fingers. It was left-handed, too, but I didn't care."

Siegel said his uncle refused to return the ball and finally gave it to the youngster's father instead.

"I never got that ball back until two years after I was married," Siegel said.

"Actually, it's pretty lucky for me that my uncle kept it. The ball probably would have ended up in a sandlot game like several others we caught at the stadium."

Siegel, a Savannah clothing store manager, keeps the ball encased in a plastic cocoon mounted on a miniature baseball diamond in his home.

"I have never tried to sell the ball or capitalize on it," he said. "And I don't intend to," he added. "That ball is mine and it's not for sale. A few years back I wrote the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, N.Y., and asked if they would be interested in it. They replied yes. I intend to give it to my son, and he can do with it as he wishes."

Before the beginning of the college football season, Nov. 4 was pencilled off as the day of decision—and nothing has changed as the nation's top teams battle each other Saturday in key conference battles that may also have a lot to say about the post-season bowl spots.

Decision Due On Mitchell's Availability

CLEVELAND (AP)—A decision expected today on whether the Army will let halfback Bobby Mitchell play for the Cleveland Browns against Pittsburgh here Sunday could change the odds by which the home club is favored.

Mitchell scored all three touchdowns in the Browns' 30-28 victory at Pittsburgh, and Lou Groza's toe provided the rest of the points on field goals.

The odds-makers have installed Cleveland as 8½ point favorites. Then he put his club through a long defensive drill Tuesday. Coach Paul Brown noted that halfback Tom Watkins would be needed in spots even if Mitchell is available.

Their 20-10 upset victory over the San Francisco 49ers has whetted the appetites of the hard-luck Steelers, and in addition to being eager their squad is at full strength.

Ole Miss is second nationally in total offense and passing offense and has a defense that is rated fourth as Coach John Vaught's three units have little to distinguish between them, performance-wise.

Minnesota, also 3-0 in the Big Ten, is led by quarterback Sandy Stephens, the conference's total offense leader. Its defense is third best nationally, but rated tenth against rushing.

LSU (No. 6), was the last team to beat Mississippi—21 games ago—and last year spoiled a perfect Ole Miss season with a 6-6 tie. Both are 3-0 in the SEC, but LSU is not as strong offensively and its defense, while tough, is still not rated as highly as that of the Rebels.

In a companion Big Ten thriller fifth-ranked Ohio State, also 3-0 in the conference, meets ninth ranked Iowa.

Third-ranked Texas, the nation's No. 1 offensive unit, takes on Southern Methodist in a Southwest Conference game, looking for its seventh victory without a loss. Alabama, ranked fourth and atop the SEC with 4-0, meets conference foe Mississippi State. And Georgia Tech (No. 7) plays Florida in another SEC game.

The Big Eight conference has its big one this year when unbeaten Colorado, ranked eighth with a 5-0 over-all mark, and 4-6 in league play, battles for first place against Missouri (5-0-1).

In intersectional games, Navy plays at Notre Dame and Duke, the Atlantic Coast leader, goes against Michigan. Syracuse and Pitt tangle in the East's top game while Rutgers, the nation's only other major undefeated team at 5-0, plays Lafayette.

IT'S THAT TIME AGAIN—Welcoming Denver's first major snowstorm of the season, Joyce Groth (waxing her skis) and Mary Freitag eagerly get ready for their first skiing session at Congress Park. Denver area received six inches.

Lossless Ohio Teams Poised

Trio Is Expected To Continue Streaks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's unbeaten football trio figures to ramble on this weekend as the state's colleges stage a 26-game program.

Baldwin-Wallace, rated second among the country's smaller colleges, puts its 6-0 mark on the block Saturday against Heidelberg's Student Princes, who have a 1-4-1 record. Otterbein's Carinals, also 6-0, have Ashland's Eagles (3-4) as opponents. And John Carroll (4-0) goes against Wabash beaten last week by Ohio Wesleyan.

Ohio State, unbeaten but tied once, heads into the danger zone by entertaining wounded Iowa in a Big Ten homecoming scrap in Ohio Stadium.

In the Ohio Conference the big one is in Akron's Rubber Bowl, where the Zippers (4-1) must beat Muskingum (4-0) to stay in the title scrap. They share the lead with Otterbein (5-0) and Wittenberg (4-0). Wittenberg entertains Denison, which has dropped four of its five conference tilts.

Bowling Green, leader of the Mid-American with 4-1, is host to West Texas State in a non-league encounter. In conference games Kent State (1-4) is at Western Michigan (3-1), Toledo (2-3) visits Miami (2-2) and Ohio University (2-1) goes against Marshall (1-3). The non-league competition offers some nifties, including Cincinnati at Tulsa, Dayton at Holy Cross, Louisville at Xavier and North Dakota at Youngstown.

Also on the Saturday slate are Capital at Marietta, Ohio Wesleyan at Wooster, Kenyon at Mount Union, Case Tech at Bethany, Wayne at Western Reserve, St. Joseph at Central State, Defiance at Taylor, Findlay at Anderson, Hiram at Kalamazoo, Oberlin at Susquehanna, Earlham at Wilmington and Manchester at Bluffton.

Ruth's 60th Home Run Ball Is Owned by Proud Georgian

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — The man who caught Babe Ruth's 60th home run ball wanted to trade it for the Babe's bat or glove but his uncle would not let him.

H. D. Siegel is happy today that his uncle was so stubborn.

Siegel was 14 on that eventful day in September, 1927, when Ruth powered one of Tom Zachary's pitches into the right field stand close to the foul line.

By FRANK WATSON

QUESTIONS

1—Is the Pirates' Don Hoak the "take charge" kind of player?

2—Was Babe Ruth a southpaw or a righthanded pitcher during his hurling days?

3—When the Pirates won the World Series in 1960, it was the first one for them since 1926. True or false?

HOCHHEE? ONE of the top second basemen in the National League, he settled the 1960 World Series with one mighty stroke of his bat. What is this Pirate's name?

ANSWERS
1—True.
2—A southpaw.
3—True.
(Hoak, Hoak, Hoak)
Distributed by Central Press

There was a mad scramble for the ball, and young Siegel came up with it.

"We knew there was something kind of special about it but didn't take it too seriously," Siegel said. "After all, it was just another home run by Babe Ruth."

"After the game my uncle, Harry Valencia, and I went up to the Yankee dressing room where he got all of the Yankees to autograph the ball except Jumpin' Joe Dugan. I don't know how we missed him."

"While we were there, Babe offered me a glove or a bat for the ball. I really wanted that glove. It was a beautiful white one with four fingers. It was left-handed, too, but I didn't care."

Siegel said his uncle refused to return the ball and finally gave it to the youngster's father instead.

"I never got that ball back until two years after I was married," Siegel said.

"Actually, it's pretty lucky for me that my uncle kept it. The ball probably would have ended up in a sandlot game like several others we caught at the stadium."

Siegel, a Savannah clothing store manager, keeps the ball encased in a plastic cocoon mounted on a miniature baseball diamond in his home.

"I have never tried to sell the ball or capitalize on it," he said. "And I don't intend to," he added. "That ball is mine and it's not for sale. A few years back I wrote the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, N.Y., and asked if they would be interested in it. They replied yes. I intend to give it to my son, and he can do with it as he wishes."

Taipei Typhoon Victims Refuse To Leave Shelter

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Taipei city government has given 723 typhoon victims two weeks to move out of six primary schools or be forcibly evicted.

The refugees moved into the school after Typhoon Pamela destroyed their homes Sept. 12. They have refused all pleas to budge from the 28 classrooms they are occupying.

Oak-Covered Ridges Show Fall Coloring

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Lovers of autumn color in the Ohio hills should head for the oak-covered ridges in the hill country this week end, Ohio State park managers say. There color is at its best. The managers said the flaming colors are almost gone for another year as the maples have shed many of their leaves, but there is still much beauty to be seen as the quieter pastel shades take over the woods and forests. Main colors mentioned by the park men are gold, rust, brown, yellow and some red.

Roosevelt State Park in Scioto and Adams counties will provide some of the best color in the state this weekend. The oaks are showing rose, rust, purple and many shades of red.

On the following weekend, for all parts of the state but southern Ohio it is predicted that color will be gone. But for the hill country of southern and southeastern Ohio, the land where the oaks dominate the forests, there will be color lingering well into November.

Cuban Refugees Plan Hike to Washington

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A group of Cuban refugees plans to start walking to Washington Sunday to ask President Kennedy to act against Fidel Castro's government.

Santiago Perez, a former captain in Castro's air force, said 100 refugees will leave Miami Sunday night on the 1,130-mile journey on foot.

NEW YORK (AP)—Danny Kaye will make one of his occasional television appearances within the next few days, but generally network viewing will consist of regularly scheduled programs.

Tonight, however, the sponsor of CBS' "Route 66" will substitute a variety show, hosted by James (Gunsmoke) Arness, for the usual adventure story, in order to celebrate an anniversary. Featured are Art Carney, Nanette Fabray and Tony Randall (8:30-9:30 EST).

Saturday night's NBC movie (9-11) will star Clark Gable and Susan Hayward in "Soldier of Fortune." CBS' "Have Gun, Will Travel" features Odetta, the folk singer, in her first dramatic role (9:30-10).

Prime Minister Nehru of India will be the guest on NBC's "Meet the Press" Sunday (6-6:30), in conflict with a "Twentieth Century" documentary on CBS about the career of Al Smith. Jack Benny's guest will be Raymond Burr in his "Perry Mason" character (9:30-10), and NBC's "Show of the Week" will be "Music of the 30's," a Project 20 documentary.

Danny Kaye will give virtually a one-man show Monday night (9-10, CBS). Mickey Rooney will star in a serious drama, "Somebody's Waiting," on the Dick Powell Show Tuesday evening (9-10, NBC). And Fred Astaire will play an escape artist in "Moment of Decision," an hour-long drama (10-11, ABC).

CBS' "Circle Theatre" will take a look at charity gyps on Wednesday night (10-11) while NBC's David Brinkley will interview a former Soviet spy on his "Journal" (10:30-11).

County Schools Receive First State Inspection in 8 Years

Pickaway County's school system is receiving its first general inspection by state education authorities in almost eight years.

Deercreek, Monroe and Darby Schools have already undergone extensive day-long examinations by Gerald R. Norman, school supervisor for the Ohio Department of Education. County Superintendent George McDowell has noted Norman will inspect every institution operated by the county before his tour ends Nov. 15.

Norman is using reports submitted to his office by each school principal as the basis for his inspection. His basic duty is to compare local operations with codes of educational requirements and recommendations established by the state.

Norman's visit is the first such general inspection in the county since December, 1954. As a first step he obtained information concerning teacher certification, assessed property valuation, operating tax millage, bond retirement millage and bonded indebtedness for Pickaway local school districts.

McDowell, accompanied Norman on all inspection trips. The two men work closely with each school principal to obtain an accurate picture of operation.

After Norman completes his visitation his findings will be summarized in a full report which will be considered by state educators and forwarded to McDowell with recommendations for any changes needed in the local system.

If Norman feels any major action needs to be taken here, Dr. E. E. Holt, state superintendent of public instruction, will notify local officials. Action must be taken by Holt's office. The report will probably arrive here early in December.

Norman will conclude his inspection of Westfall district schools Monday at Jackson. In each of the districts he consults with the executive head to increase the value of his tour.

Starting Tuesday he will move to the Teays Valley district. First on the list to be examined will be Walnut Twp. He will go to Scioto Wednesday, Ashville on Thursday and Logan Elm district schools Friday.

After an inspection of Logan Elm High School, Norman returns Monday to tour Pickaway, Salt-creek and Washington schools.

Madison, Duvall and South Bloomfield schools are to be checked Nov. 14 and the inspection concludes with a tour of Atlanta and Muhlenberg schools Nov. 15.

McDowell emphasized that such inspections are important to local schools to insure maintenance of a high quality of education.

County Superintendent George McDowell has noted Norman will inspect every institution operated by the county before his tour ends Nov. 15.

Norman is using reports submitted to his office by each school principal as the basis for his inspection. His basic duty is to compare local operations with codes of educational requirements and recommendations established by the state.

Norman's visit is the first such general inspection in the county since December, 1954. As a first step he obtained information concerning teacher certification, assessed property valuation, operating tax millage, bond retirement millage and bonded indebtedness for Pickaway local school districts.

McDowell, accompanied Norman on all inspection trips. The two men work closely with each school principal to obtain an accurate picture of operation.

After Norman completes his visitation his findings will be summarized in a full report which will be considered by state educators and forwarded to McDowell with recommendations for any changes needed in the local system.

If Norman feels any major action needs to be taken here, Dr. E. E. Holt, state superintendent of public instruction, will notify local officials. Action must be taken by Holt's office. The report will probably arrive here early in December.

Norman will conclude his inspection of Westfall district schools Monday at Jackson. In each of the districts he consults with the executive head to increase the value of his tour.

Starting Tuesday he will move to the Teays Valley district. First on the list to be examined will be Walnut Twp. He will go to Scioto Wednesday, Ashville on Thursday and Logan Elm district schools Friday.

After an inspection of Logan Elm High School, Norman returns Monday to tour Pickaway, Salt-creek and Washington schools.

Madison, Duvall and South Bloomfield schools are to be checked Nov. 14 and the inspection concludes with a tour of Atlanta and Muhlenberg schools Nov. 15.

McDowell emphasized that such inspections are important to local schools to insure maintenance of a high quality of education.

Pickaway Payroll in 1960 Passes $20 Million Mark

Approximately 260 employers in Pickaway County reported a total payroll of $20,028,782 in 1960, according to the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

The Division of Research and Statistics of BUC has completed 1960 tabulations of quarterly tax employers and 4,307 workers in Pickaway County subject to the OUC law.

Bureau officials noted the OUC law does not cover such groups as agricultural labor, interstate railroads, government and domestic service, certain non-profit organizations and employers with less than three workers.

Relative change in major industry of Pickaway County, subject to the OUC law, from 1959 to 1960, was listed as:

• • • • •
TOTAL employment showed a two per cent increase in 1960 over 1959 and total payroll was listed with a three per cent increase;

Employment in contract construction was 15.1 per cent less and payroll showed an 11.3 per cent decrease;

Manufacturing jumped four per cent along with a 4.7 per cent raise in payroll;

Transportation and utilities recorded minus figures — employment, 4.4 per cent and payroll, 4.7 per cent;

Wholesale and retail trade within the county showed an increase of 4.1 per cent over 1959. The payroll increased by 7.8 per cent;

Finance, insurance and real estate employment jumped 5.6 per cent and the payroll increased 4.3 per cent;

The greatest increase was recorded in the services classification, which includes hotels, motion pictures, laundries and others, with 14.7 per cent in employment and 20.0 per cent in payroll.

THE greatest number of employed persons in Pickaway County fall under the manufacturing classification, with a monthly average of 2,421 workers.

The report compiled by the BUC office listed an average weekly paycheck of $101.47 for local persons involved in manufacturing.

A total average weekly earning for Pickaway Countians was listed by the BUC office as $89.43.

The artificial services of Curtiss sires in all major dairy and beef breed will be offered in the Southwestern Pickaway and Ross County area by Darrell R. Carter, Route 2, a newly assigned herd technician for Ellis Blevins, local distributor of the nationwide Curtiss Breeding Service.

Carter recently completed an intensive two-week training course at the Curtiss Farm, Cary, Ill., where he studied various subjects and techniques of artificial insemination.

As the new local representative, Carter extends an invitation to all farmer-breeders to visit him for more information concerning artificial services of Curtiss sires.

Ralph W. Tipton, 629 S. Court St., associate manager of the Chillicothe District office of the Western and Southern Life Insurance Co., was awarded a trophy and a plaque this week by his firm for outstanding accomplishment.

The trophy was for earning second highest in total writings, leading eight Ohio districts. The plaque was bestowed for his being the leading associate manager of the Chillicothe district. The announcement was made by Russell Devaul, district manager at Chillicothe.

Total writings by Tipton and his six-man staff amounted to $169,019.

Charles Dunkle, E. High St., also received a trophy, being named leading agent of this district with a total of $52,000 in writings. Second high place went to Norman Lambert, W. High St., with $51,000.

Tipton and Dunkle received their honors at a dinner in Zanesville Wednesday night.

DiSalle, GOP Solon Debate Ohio Finances

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and the Republican chairman of the Ohio Senate Finance Committee debated the state's financial situation Thursday.

DiSalle accused Republican legislators of voting appropriations for which Democrats had to raise the money. Sen. William H. Deddens of Cincinnati replied that Di-Salle's state spending programs were too high.

They aired their views from the same platform for the first time at the 68th annual meeting of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce.

Deddens led off the discussion, noting that DiSalle asked higher appropriations from the last legislature without recommending tax increases to finance them.

He said majority Republicans increased appropriations for education, welfare and mental hygiene without boosting taxes.

DiSalle listed appropriation increases totaling $40 million for which he said Deddens voted, then asked:

"If he votes for $40 million more in appropriations but not for the taxes to sustain them, how are we going to get along?"

Deddens said DiSalle claimed that two cents a day more per person would provide Ohio with the money for administration programs the governor termed necessary. But the senator said that figured out to another $170 million in taxes.

(Actually, it figures to $70.8 million a year for the state's 9.7 million people.)

County Schools Receive First State Inspection in 8 Years

Pickaway County's school system is receiving its first general inspection by state education authorities in almost eight years.

Deercreek, Monroe and Darby schools have already undergone extensive day-long examinations by Gerald R. Norman, school supervisor for the Ohio Department of Education. County Superintendent George McDowell has noted Norman will inspect every institution operated by the county before his tour ends Nov. 15.

Norman is using reports submitted to his office by each school principal as the basis for his inspection. His basic duty is to compare local operations with codes of educational requirements and recommendations established by the state.

Proctorville Housewife Is Mrs. Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio will have an attractive 36-year-old brunette as its representative in the Mrs. America contest.

She is Mrs. Donald (Wanda) Gillette, mother of two children from Rt. 1, Proctorville, Lawrence County. She won the Mrs. Ohio title Thursday by besting 15 other leading homemakers in the two-day state finals here.

Mrs. Gillette now advances to the national contest at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Nov. 13-27.

Runnerup in the state competition, sponsored by five Ohio gas companies, was Mrs. Dwane Johnson of Akron.

Contestants were judged on general homemaking ability, personality and poise, appearance and grooming and community activities. The contest was climaxed by a 90-minute cook-off. Mrs. Gillette won a washer-dryer combination appliance, a gas range and a $500 wardrobe. She succeeds Mrs. Gaynelle Willis of Washington Court House, the 1960 Mrs. Ohio.

Winners in preliminary events included: Table setting — Mrs. Robert Smith of Gibsonburg. Poultry preparation — Mrs. James Coolahan of Lima. Cake baking — Mrs. Carl Mercer of Canton.
